Forty-one years—just 9 short of a half century—is the amazing record of service to his fellowmen which has been amassed by Chief Frank J. Bierman of the Mt. Prospect fire department.

Chief Biermann has spanned an era which stretches from the hand pumper to the modern emergency oxygen-equipped emergency car which speeds on errands of mercy almost every day in Mt. Prospect.

Should Arlington Heights village board recognize the expression of its voters on the sanitary district annexation?

Six out of 15 village precincts voted 1965 to 1888 in favor of the annexation. The office of the county clerk reports that 10 more days will elapse before the official accounting can be made public.

There is no doubt that Wheeling township gave a good "yes." The village of Wheeling voted 842 to 525 in its favor. Prospect Heights rolled up a bigger majority.

In view of present figures, we do not see why Arlington Heights as a village should question the legality of the law. Instead, it should reduce the present sewer use tax in proportion to the saving it will make when the sanitary district pays the expense of operating the present plant.

Many parents think their responsibility for actions of their offspring ends when they become of school age. Not so the mother whose 2 boys will face the electric chair for their part in the shooting of a policeman in a Hanover tavern last week.

She accepted full responsibility. She said the family had never had any home life and that she was away from home too much.

This mother's remorse should awaken all of us to the need for child guidance in the home as well as in the schools.

We told a visitor from the south last week that housewives in northern Illinois are not troubled with cockroaches or other bugs that are such a pest in the warm climate states. We spoke too soon.

As we reached our desk Monday morning, we were asked to identify a small bug that has entered many Arlington Heights homes in recent weeks.

"They are not large enough to be carpet beetles, neither are they box elder bugs, and besides they still live after being sprayed," was the complaint of a Dunton ave. resident who promised her neighbors that the editor would have the answer in this week's edition.

We haven't the answer, we are still trying to get those bugs identified and have a dozen or more of them imprisoned in a bottle on our desk.

The privilege of renting a new home between $60 and $70 a month is the bait that is being offered in a 1600-acre development in Hanover township, at the intersection of Schaumburg and Bartlett rds.

The chief requirement for a renter is the right to vote—a year in the state and 90 days in the county.

An advertisement states that large families are preferred. The sooner there are 100 people residing in the municipality the sooner an election can be called, which in turn will provide home rule for control of all zoning and building.

A lot of voters turned down the Blue Ballot November 6, probably thinking that its defeat would insure a tax status quo.

It is not so. The schools need money and the school interests are doing a lot of sleuthing to find it.

The latest is a building material tax which would provide an estimated additional $74,000,000 for schools if it was put entirely to that purpose. Its adoption would add 2½ per cent to the cost of homes.

The nigger in the woodpile is that it could only be employed if a general occupational tax is levied and there is no end to what that additional tax might mean to the housewife who turned down the Blue Ballot which promised an end to sales tax on food.

If a full occupational tax is approved by the legislature, the housewife will be paying a tax to the laundryman, garbage collector, telephone and electric light companies, the tailor, and perhaps the beauty parlor operator.

We are willing the schools should get theirs, but it is our thinking that there would be too many dollars syphoned off by the state for other purposes. Remember what was promised when the sales tax was increased?

We agree with the downstaters who condemn Cook county for either its disregard of autos as personal property or assessing them $240 cheaper than other counties.

A simple and easy answer on the auto assessments is the requirement that a receipted auto tax bill be presented to the state before a license can be secured.

After the defeat of the Blue Ballot, there is nothing to stop an income tax. In place of getting a headache over it all, we will just let the finding of the answer to the attorneys and the few editors who are members of the state legislature.

We are willing to bet that the lawyers will win, which in turn probably means "God help the average taxpaying citizen."

Streamliner Rams Oil Truck; 2 Miss Death

FLAMING OIL enveloped a Chicago and North Western streamliner Friday after it rammed a tank truck at the Rohlwing rd. crossing between Palatine and Rolling Meadows.

Driver of the truck and a woman motorist whose auto was hit by flying debris escaped serious injury.

FLAMES FANNED along the length of the Madison, Wis., to Chicago passenger train, scorching the side of coaches and gutting 2 refrigerator cars before they were extinguished by Palatine firemen.

None of the passengers or crewmen were injured.

A woman motorist driving along Northwest hwy. narrowly escaped serious injury when a portion of the truck's wheel assemblage flew into the air and plummeted into her auto, causing her to crash into a ditch.

Mrs. Roland Hopp, 437 S. Highland, Arlington Heights, was taken to Resurrection hospital and released. Her car was badly damaged.

ABOUT 600 gallons of number 2 fuel oil was spattered on the 9-car train.

The 4-wheel tank truck with an oil capacity of 1600 gallons is owned by Arlington Elevator and Material co., 215 W. Northwest hwy., Arlington Heights.

Driver was William Jonas, 44, of 1441 Whitcomb, Des Plaines. He said he approached the crossing, stopped, and proceeded across the tracks because a blinding sun made it impossible for him to see the flashing red warning lights. There are no gates at the crossing located a half mile east of route 53 (Hicks rd.)

Jonas was recently awarded a citation for driving 8 years without an accident.

He was taken to Resurrection hospital for treatment of cuts and bruises and released.

WRECKAGE of the truck was scattered hundreds of feet along the track.

The train's engineer said he threw on emergency brakes when he saw the truck but that there was not time to prevent the crash.

Spokesman for the C&NW said all the train's wheels were flattened as a result of the set brakes.

Palatine firemen had to wash down all the coaches, and the entire train was taken out of service and parked on a siding at Arlington Park race track. Passengers were transferred to a special train.

Most severe damage was to the train's diesel locomotive and to 2 refrigerator cars located immediately behind the locomotive. Burning oil seeped between the car walls and nearly gutted the interiors.

AND A NOSE for news proved the undoing of an energetic newsman rushing to the scene of the train-truck wreck for a story.

Jim Bade, news editor of the Des Plaines Journal was driving along Northwest hwy. in Arlington Heights on his way to the accident when his car was struck by a Consumers co. truck, damaging the right front end of his car.

And when he finally arrived at the rail crossing, he discovered his press camera had no film in it!

Biased About Builders?

Last week a reader accused Paddock Publications of consistently knocking home buyers, builders and contractors, developers, prefabbers, and fostering ill will toward anyone connected with suburban growth.

This week Paddock Publications answers the charge in a frank, forthright statement of policy. Read Paddock Publications Point of View: Section 2, page 6.

Meetings Launch Hospital Drive

Mass meetings to launch the million-dollar fund drive for the Northwest Community Hospital center were held in Arlington Heights and Palatine this week.

ORGANIZATIONS representing Arlington Heights, Rolling Meadows, and Wheeling met at Arlington high school Thursday. More than 500 members of the teams that will solicit these areas attended the meeting in spite of rain and windstorm.

Nicholas M. Lattof, general chairman for the drive, presided at the meeting and announced encouraging first results of the campaign.

LATTOF reported a total of $63,500 in 10 pledges received just prior to the meeting.

These included 3 pledges for $10,000 each; 4 for $5,000 each; 2 for $2,500 each and one for $8,500.

NICHOLAS LATTOF

Among those pledges gratefully received were: Max Rhodes of Rhodes Appliances; the Gaare Oil co., Alfred H. Shotwell, president; Brandt's Restaurant and Lounge, through Joseph Brandt, a charter member of the hospital board; Earl Riley, residential chairman for Arlington Heights; Waldo E. Tinsley; and a memorial for Mrs. Geo. K. Volz given by Geo. K. Volz, Donna Marie Volz, and Glen and Vivian Benson.

KENATH HARTMAN, secretary of the board of trustees, traced the development of the organization from the time of its inception 3 years ago in Palatine to the present time.

H. W. Dotts, co-chairman for the drive, explained the set-up of the drive and gave instructions pertaining to the methods of soliciting and handling the pledges and donations.

Jack D. Hughes, co-chairman of the industrial committee, made an illustrated presentation dramatizing the objectives in the drive.

IN PALATINE, an organization of 250 solicitors under the leadership of G. M. Sanborn, W. R. Sundling, Roy LaLonde, and Leonard H. Ziehm for Inverness, met in Oak Street school November 19.

A meeting of 250 solicitors of Prospect Heights under the leadership of George H. Sheppard will be held at Prospect Heights school Sunday at 2 p.m.

WITH THE organization completed and the campaign launched thus far in Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Rolling Meadows, Wheeling, Palatine, and Prospect Heights there are 1,350 citizens of these communities now engaged in the campaign.

Lattof estimated that, when organization is completed in Des Plaines, Barrington, and Schaumburg, more than 2,000 citizens will be involved.

Though it was too early at press time to announce results of the solicitation first indications may be significant.

The first area captain to report the first results of 30 residential calls announced that these calls resulted in 30 pledges averaging $115 apiece.

Thanksgiving Dinner Will Cost Less

Your Thanksgiving dinner will cost you less this year than any time since 1950.

So announced the department of agriculture in studying the price of a home-cooked Thanksgiving dinner with all the trimmings.

A 10-POUND cleaned turkey costs $4.50 this year compared with $5.90 last year. Prices on apples, pumpkins, cranberries and oranges also have dropped and sweet potatoes, celery, grapes and walnuts have remained about the same price.

For a family of 4, the department estimates the cost of Thanksgiving groceries at $6.20 with some leftovers.

Last year the same meal cost $7.68.

Motorist Hurt, Another Arrested In 2 Accidents

Two auto accidents 1 hour and 1 block apart early Sunday morning resulted in serious injuries to an Arlington Heights resident and the arrest of a Barrington youth on 4 charges.

Robert W. Harth, 35, of 544 S. Highland, Arlington Heights, is in critical condition in Resurrection hospital, according to a spokesman for the family. He received head cuts and bruises and internal injuries in the accident in which his car apparently went out of control, jumped the curb near the northwest corner of Central and State rds. and overturned. He was southbound on State rd.

The spokesman added that Harth, an employee of the village sewage disposal plant, was operated on for more than 4 hours Sunday.

POLICE WERE called to Rockwell and State, 1 block away, at 2:30 a.m., an hour later.

A car driven by Bob Dressendorf, 19, of Barrington, veered out of control, knocked over a light pole at the southeast corner of Rockwell and State, crossed the street and struck a sign post on S. State rd. The car continued in its path of destruction, crashing through an evergreen hedge at the Oscar E. Johnson residence, 707 S. State, and finally stopping several feet from the house.

Several bushes were uprooted in the Johnson yard.

Dressendorf was cited by police for driving while intoxicated, damage to public property, damage to private property and driving with an expired driver's license. He was later released on $500 bond.

Both the Harth and Dressendorf cars were total losses, according to police.

A 17-YEAR-OLD Arlington Heights youth was arrested for failure to yield right of way after an accident Thursday afternoon. Donald A. Pruyn, 17, of 918 N. Hickory ave., apparently failed to see a car approaching from the east after stopping on Walnut at Euclid.

His car collided with one driven by Albert J. Smithers, 32, of Waukegan.

Reported to police late last week was theft of a 1949 Frazier from the Knaack used car lot at 1110 W. Northwest hwy.

Award Contracts For New $170,000 Westgate School

The Arlington Heights school board last week let contracts for the construction of a 6-room school on a 7½ acre site in the Westgate subdivision.

Low bidders were: general contract, Alan Construction co.; plumbing, Frank Savilli Plumbing; heating and ventilating, Hans Jensen and Sons, Inc.; electrical, Erlands Electrical Contractors.

Construction is expected to begin at once on the $170,000 building with a tentative occupancy date of September, 1957.

While no decision has yet been reached regarding the exact area to be served by this school, it is expected to relieve the overcrowding at the South school. The school site at Grove st. and Dwyer ave. was dedicated by the subdivider.

Construction on the building at Miner st. and Dryden ave. is progressing well. All concrete work has been completed and the structural steel for the building is now being delivered. With the erection of the steel the building can be roofed at once, so that brick laying can proceed during the winter months.

WITH THE completion of the Westgate and Miner schools, the board of education said facilities will be inadequate to house the expected enrollments for 1957-58 without the necessity of double sessions. The triple-session kindergarten program may be continued in some schools, however.

The administration building under construction adjacent to the junior high school is nearing completion. This building will provide offices for all central administrative personnel.

Merchants Form 'Heart' Council Here

The Heart of the Heights Council--a group of downtown Arlington Heights merchants--was organized Thursday with the avowed purpose of promoting the midtown area as the village's principal shopping area.

Dan Senne, of the Emerald shop, was elected temporary chairman of the group. Art Mueller, of Mueller's Stationery store, was named vice chairman in charge of membership and Mrs. Robert Muench, of the Lorraine-Anne shop, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Council members selected an advertising and promotion committee consisting of Senne, Verne Hagenbring, of Hagenbring's, Jack Flaherty, of Flaherty Jewelers and Ray Lemke, of Gieske's department store.

IN ADDITION to approving plans for an extensive local advertising campaign, the newly-formed council also announced plans to give a 1957 automobile to some fortunate Heart of the Heights shopper just before Christmas.

Give Thanks Together After 18 Years Of Separation

Nada Pancich will give thanks in Serbian today.

But her thanks, and those of her husband Pete, will be all the more real for it.

This is Nada's first American Thanksgiving, her husband's 19th. But it is the first they have spent together. For this they will give thanks.

The couple lives in a modestly-furnished apartment at 203 N. Evergreen in Arlington Heights. For Panto, or Pete as he has been known since he owned Pete's shoe repair shop in the village early in the 1940's, the arrival of his wife last spring ended 18 years of separation.

Pancich settled in the United States in 1937, coming to the village in 1940. After several years of shoe repairing he left it to work in a Skokie war plant. He still works at the plant.

THE ONSET of war wrecked his plans to bring his wife and 3 children to America. After the war years his wife felt it would be best to remain in Yugoslavia to complete the children's education.

During the long years of separation Pancich sent a steady stream of packages containing food and clothing across the Atlantic.

Needless to say, their reunion in Chicago's LaSalle st. station in April was a tearful one.

And is Nada glad to be living with her husband in this to her still strange land?

Wordlessly, her eyes answer "yes."

GEORGE HARRIS

'Tis the season when "Mr. Turkey" reigns supreme, so what else is there to talk about except "Thanksgiving," the day when the family gets together and renews past Thanksgivings that have meant so much to all. You know, there is just enough of the kid left in me to think of roast turkey, dressing, cranberry sauce, sweet potatoes, mashed potatoes, mince meat pie and that ever lovin' Pumpkin Pie. Spending the day with the family, eating your fill and just relaxing is only part of this wonderful day "Thanksgiving."

There is so much that I, personally, have to be thankful for—the opportunity of having a business in a thriving community, the people who have made this possible, my family and a host of other things too numerous to mention. This day offers us time to stop and meditate, to think just how thankful we can be, that we are in a country like this where we have the opportunities that are so limited other places.

Both Marian and myself wish each and every one of you "Happy Thanksgiving," and may we all continue to be thankful each and every day of the year.

THANKSGIVING — 1621-1956

It has been 335 years since Governor Bradford suggested that the Pilgrims set aside a day for giving thanks.

Although we are far in time and miles from Plymouth Rock, we are much the same: Americans setting aside a day to thank God for freedom and prosperity. Let us pray that we will be deserving of God's blessings for many generations to come.

Village Hires Part-Time Secretary For Manager

Mrs. Elva M. Woolfson began work last week as a receptionist-stenographer for F. R. Buechner, Arlington Heights village manager.

Mrs. Woolfson, a housewife with extensive office experience, will be employed on a part-time basis, Buechner said. She will greet callers upstairs in the village hall afternoons from 1 to 5 p. m.

She formerly assisted with village stenographic work during preparation of the village budget. She and her husband, Walter, reside at 1020 N. Forrest ave.

Buechner also announced that a representative of the Public Administration Survey Monday began a position classification and salary study of all village employees.

The study, for which the village board appropriated $750, will be completed by the end of next week.

IN HIS REPORT to the village board to be considered at the Tuesday meeting the manager noted that work was started last week on a project to synchronize Northwest highway traffic lights with crossing gates.

Buechner said that it will be several months before the job is completed due to delays in the delivery of necessary cable and electrical controls.

MILBURN BROTHERS, Mt. Prospect contractors, is slated to begin work on the Dunton-Vail parking lot this week. Sand removed in the Chestnut st. renovation job has been dumped in the lot as fill. The lot will be graded and topped with gravel this fall, perhaps by December 10, said Buechner, with blacktopping to follow in the spring.

'How Do You Expect Me To Live On $73 A Month?'

by JULIUS BERMAN
Northwest District Manager Social Security Administration

It would be safe to wager that at one time or another you had at least a faint suspicion that this is not the best of all possible worlds.

Many people have been certain that it isn't.

And, fortunately for mankind, some of them have sallied forth to improve it.

BUT JUST as Heaven is talked about by more people than are going there, the improvement of life on this old planet is more often talked about than undertaken.

And wittingly or otherwise, too many people are too often eager to better it with the other fellow's money

So it is that occasionally we hear the comment, from a beneficiary who qualifies for an average benefit, "How do you expect me to live on $73 a month?'

WE COULD devote several columns to the mental processes and social attitudes that make it possible for a person to ask such a question. Perhaps in the future we shall.

For the present, however, let us use the question merely to illustrate that there are some who give little or no thought to the source of the funds they are receiving or will in the future receive, and who are unaware of the basic concept of American Social Security.

Old-Age and Survivors Insurance was never intended to provide for all of a person's needs.

The American people as a whole never did, and do not now, subscribe to the notion that the world, or other people in it, owe them a living

THEY DO believe — as the actions of their legislators reflect — that there is a basic level of existence beneath which no American should be permitted to sink

They also believe that the initiative and self-reliance that helped make our country great should be encouraged and preserved.

Because of these beliefs, Old-Age and Survivors Insurance benefits were designed to provide a basic floor of protection.

On this foundation, the worker is encouraged to build. It is up to him, through his own work and his own savings and investments, to provide a really comfortable retirement for himself or a really adequate income for his family if he should die

AND BECAUSE of these beliefs also, Old-Age and Survivor Insurance is a contributory plan, not a handout.

In the aggregate, whatever workers or their families receive in benefits, they and their employers have paid for in contributions.

Consequently, the man who asks 'How do you expect me to live on this?" is really saying 'I want more than my share. I want something for nothing because I believe the world owes me a living."

THE CONCEPT that Old-Age and Survivors Insurance should provide no more than a basic floor of protection carries over into the new disability insurance program.

To make sure that benefit does not pile upon benefit, a limited system of "offset" has been established.

This offset applies to all disability beneficiaries, disabled children over the age of 18 as well as disabled workers.

In practice, however, it will affect only a very small group — those who are also entitled to disability payments from another Federal agency (mostly Veterans Administration) or under a Federal or State Workmen's Compensation law.

PERSONS receiving benefits from these sources will have their social security disability benefit offset by the amount they otherwise receive.

For example, if the other benefit amounts to $50 a month and the social security benefit to $60, the social security benefit actually payable will be $10.

This 'offset" also applies to benefits paid to the mothers of [illegible] 18.

Let us assume that the mother of this disabled child entitled to $60 a month is receiving benefits of $60 a month also — and because she has the disabled child in her care.

If the child received $50 a month on account of the disability from another Federal agency, or under a Federal or State Workmen's Compensation law, he will, as a result of offset, receive only $10 a month from Social Security. But the mother's $60 benefit will continue in full.

ON THE OTHER HAND, if the child's benefit from the other agency amounts to more than his [illegible] benefit — say $ [illegible] the child will receive [illegible] and the mother would receive $50 a month.

Of course, if these other benefits should be stopped for some reason other than recovery from the disabling condition, the social security benefit would be payable in full.

Volunteers Ready To Aid Muscular Dystrophy Appeal

One hundred per cent of the goal of the Muscular Dystrophy Associations is in sight just 2 weeks before the 1956 March for Muscular Dystrophy.

"If the response and enthusiasm of our 12,000 volunteers is any indication of the success of the campaign, I'm sure we will have the most successful drive in our history," said Mrs. A. V. Zinser, chairman.

Volunteers will call on friends and neighbors in Cook and DuPage counties, November 26.

MUSCULAR dystrophy is a fatal disease which affects 200,000 victims in the United States. There is no known cure for this crippler which strikes mostly children, the majority of them of pre-school age.

The disease completely wastes away the voluntary muscles, leaving the victim completely helpless, so that a minor ailment may prove fatal.

Four million dollars has been expended by the MDA for research into the cause and cure of this baffling disease. Thirteen million dollars have been earmarked for an Institute for Muscle Disease where the best medical and scientific minds will coordinate all phases of research in muscular dystrophy and in similar diseases afflicting from three to 5 million victims.

Round 'n About Westgate

Westgate Community Association

Association meeting will be held Wednesday evening at 8:30 p.m. at the Junior high school. The nominating committee will announce their selections for offices and there will also be nominations from the floor. This is the last chance for another year that residents will have to exercise their rights and elect the person of their choice to office. Members are urged to attend the meeting and to be on time as election of officers can be lengthy.

First association dance will be held Saturday, Dec. 8 at the VFW hall in Arlington Heights. Tickets are now being printed and will be sold by members of the entertainment committee.

Newsworthy

Many men in Westgate are hard at work on the Northwest Community Hospital drive. Fund raising is a tremendous chore and very time consuming. Pat O'Dea, 301 Reuter, is chairman of the southwest division of Arlington Heights, with Bud DeZonna and Andy Graczyk working under him in this area. Men volunteering to help in this drive from Westgate are Fred Hauth, Clarence Wrobel, Howard Huff, Harold Rothery, Glen Sundquist, Martin Pattyn, Willard Heard, Ed Huster, Ed Kabat, John Vork, Jim Blocki, James Moos, Frank De Rosa, Henry Schmitz, Ed Quigley, Gene Ballou, George Rudolphy, Kenneth Purcell, Richard McFarland, Anton Van Bladel, Thomas Ralph, Walter Kruger, J. B. Smith, Art Travis, G. E. Berge and Al Utt. These men will be calling on residents this week through November 25. Goal for Westgate is $25,000 which is the cost of 1 emergency room for the hospital. If the goal is reached, the emergency room would be dedicated in memory of Westgate. There are approximately 250 homes in this area and if $100 per household pledge is received over a 30-month period, the goal will easily be attained. This sum amounts to $3 per month for each family. Residents are asked to welcome the volunteer fund men and listen to his story regarding the hospital. Much credit certainly goes to these men for their time and effort.

A minor catastrophe has happened with the disappearance of a favorite toy, a black toy poodle with a red leash. The toy has evidently been taken in someone's house by mistake and as the result, a little girl is very unhappy. Anyone in the Fremont-Euclid area knowing of the whereabouts of the toy is urged to call this reporter.

News has been rather slow these past few weeks, but with the holidays near, much of interest should be happening.

End Dangerous Railway Pupil Crossing Hazard

Until now, high school students residing in an area north and south of Campbell st. between Kennicott and Mitchell have either taken their lives in hand by crossing the North Western railway at an unauthorized place near Creamery Package co. or walking 8 to 10 additional blocks to reach the high school.

The new Eastman street roadway in Arlington Heights connecting South Ridge ave. to Davis st. and Euclid ave., has just been completed, according to announcement made by F. Robert Buechner, village manager.

THE 12-FOOT-WIDE limestone thoroughfare, which has been installed mainly to provide a safe passage for boys and girls attending the high school, runs directly behind the Creamery package and Grigsby-Allison plants, and follows Salem ave. to Davis st. or Railroad ave., as it is commonly called.

"This street has been completed at the taxpayers' expense," Buechner stated, "for the benefit of youngsters who have been risking their lives by cutting across the railroad tracks to the high school. The North Western railroad, the Township high school, the Creamery Package co., as well as a group of parents have been cooperating to keep the youngsters from 'cutting'," Buechner said, "and we will all do everything possible to induce them to use this new road."

THE NEW ROAD, which ends officially at Davis or Railroad ave., is but 100 feet from Euclid ave. and Northwest highway. At this corner, in addition to the safety of the railroad crossing gates, a patrolman is on duty 5 days a week from 7:45 a. m. to 8:15 a. m. to assist all traffic, especially those persons on foot.

Buechner indicated that the railroad detective force as well as the local police have been alerted to watch for any persons who continue to cut across the tracks. Action will be taken in such cases if the violations continue. (A

Kincaid Tells Mayor, Trustees Of Master Plan

Arlington Heights Mayor Goedke and 3 trustees heard a planning consultant outline his proposals for drawing up a new master plan for the village at a Friday meeting.

Evert Kincaid of the firm of Kincaid & Associates met with the planning commission and trustees in an executive meeting. A planning commission member reported that the trustees present did not indicate their views toward the proposal of the planning body and Kincaid.

THE PLAN GROUP has spent several months working up specifications on the master plan project.

Trustees attending the session were Frederick Weber, James Millay and John Hoover.

Action on the proposal is now up to the entire village board.

To Be Soloist For 'Messiah'

David Austin, oratorio basso, will be soloist next month for Arlington Heights high school's production of "The Messiah."

The concert will be presented Sunday, December 2, at 3 p.m. in the boys' gym of Arlington high school. There will be no admission charge.

The concert artist and recitalist has made appearances with symphony orchestras in Chicago, Knoxville, Grand Rapids and University of Illinois as well as the Apollo, Swedish, Arion and United German choral societies.

DAVID AUSTIN

MEMBER of the faculties at the American Conservatory of Music and Elmhurst college, Austin is director of music at Chicago's Central church and has appeared as soloist in more than 100 performances of the "Messiah," including the first FM radio broadcast of that work on WGN.

He has also appeared in numerous other great choral works, including the Bach "Passions," Verdi "Requiem," Haydn "Drum Mass," "Creation," and Beethoven's Ninth symphony. AF

Presbyterian Women Plan Praise Service

"Our Hearts Overflow With Thy Blessings" is the title of the praise service to be held in the chapel of Arlington Heights First Presbyterian church when the Women's association holds its monthly meeting Wednesday, Nov. 28, beginning at 12:30 p.m. The program for the month is under the direction of Mrs. Enoch P. Jordan Jr., spiritual life chairman for the association, and Bible leaders from the circles will participate.

A smorgasborg, to be held in Fellowship hall, will open the meeting and will be served at 12:30 p.m. by members of circle 6. Mrs. Howard C. Lips and Mrs. A. James Moore, circle chairman and co-chairman, will be in charge. Following the luncheon, a short business meeting will be held and Mrs. William L. Johnson, president, will preside.

The program in the chapel will include a choral reading entitled, "True Praise," in which Mrs. Elmer Zilen, Mrs. R. N. Bergstrom, Mrs. Oliver Davenport and Mrs. Howard Froyd will participate. Mrs. Harold Rose will give a reading named, "Work" and Mrs. John L. Burgermeister will lead the group in prayer. Devotions for the afternoon will be given by Mrs. Charles Opela and a "hymn sing" will be conducted by Mrs. Thomas M. Perkins, with narrations by Mrs. E. P. Jordan Jr.

Accompanist for the afternoon will be Mrs. Merl Peek. (A

Newcomers Name Mrs. Mockenhaupt

Mrs. Jerome B. Mockenhaupt was elected president of Arlington Heights Newcomers club at a business meeting held recently at the fieldhouse.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Robert Kozeliski, vice president; Mrs. Robert Cournoyer, recording secretary; Mrs. William Stueber, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Don Rentzch, treasurer. Officers will serve for 6 months.

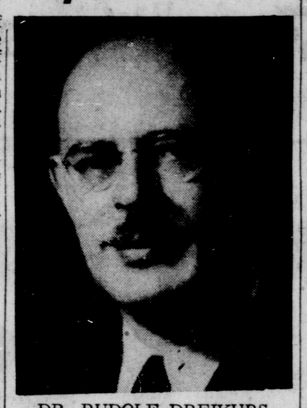
At the meeting, Mrs. J. B. Mockenhaupt thanked Mrs. Allen Patten, retiring president, on behalf of the board and members for her untiring efforts in connection with the club and its activities. She presented her with a gift as a token of their appreciation.

A presentation on the proposed Northwest Family Service association was given by Mrs. J. G. Johnson and a book review, "Good Morning, Miss Dove," was given by Mrs. Walton, poetess and author, of Park Ridge.

Psychiatrist, Author Is Child Guidance Speaker

The Northwest Suburban unit of the Community Child Guidance centers will present Dr. Rudolf Dreikurs in a demonstration of a group counseling session on Thursday at 8 p.m. in the cafeteria of Arlington Heights junior high school.

Dr. Dreikurs, internationally known psychiatrist and author of "The Challenge of Parenthood," has contributed several new theories and techniques to the education of children.



DR. RUDOLF DREIKURS

VISITORS will see an actual counseling session as it is done routinely at the Child Guidance centers. This demonstration offers a unique opportunity to every parent to better understand and appreciate those things that determine his child's behavior. The demonstration will have special meaning to those readers who have been following the weekly series, "How We Do It." Dr. Dreikus collaborated with the Mayor's Committee on Juvenile Delinquency of the city of New York in a special study performed in 1955. He is unusually well qualified to explain how juvenile delinquency can result from certain kinds of parent-child relationships.

ALL VISITORS will have the opportunity to ask questions about child rearing practices which Dr. Dreikurs will try to answer during the discussion period.

All persons interested in the welfare of children are invited to attend this demonstration which is open to the public with no charge. (AF

Chestnut St. Well Ordered Shut Down

Public Works Supt. Bill Luehring of Arlington Heights ordered the Chestnut st. well shut down Thursday.

The action was taken following complaints from numerous north side residents about the presence of a sulphur odor and taste in their water supply.

The water department received calls from residences along State, Willow, Belmont and Watling rd. Callers have been requested to report if their water supply lost the taste after the shut-down.

LUEHRING SAID the Chestnut st. well has been operating only a month since a rejuvenation job was completed. The presence of sulphur in the well's water had been noted previously, however, he added.

Aeration of the water at a reservoir would remove the objectionable taste and odor he explained. Meanwhile, 2 of the villages 4 wells can easily supply water to the entire village, Luehring indicated.

PTA Seeks Talent For Winter Review

Opportunity will knock just once this year for Village residents who would like to enjoy the third annual Arlington Heights PTA Winter Revue from behind the bright lights themselves. Anyone interested in contributing his talent rather than his seated presence at the eagerly-awaited show should be on hand in the multi-purpose room of Dryden school next Sunday, Nov. 25, from 2 to 5 p.m.

After this audition there will be no further work until January is the promise of the show's committee, headed by Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Dunham, 401 S. Bristol, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Down, 230 S. Bristol. The revue itself will be given February 21 and 22 and will have a central theme this year, in contrast to the vaudeville type presentations of the past. However, there will be need for all types of talent, so wide in scope is the script, which has been written and is now being carefully guarded.

Teachers and principals are urged to share in the show itself. Seats for this popular show are difficult to obtain; one way to end the problem is to sing, dance, whistle, tell stories, play an instrument, look beautiful or wiggle your ears. It's a ticket to the show! (A

PEOPLE WISE MARTINIZE

At this Thanksgiving time, if I had a theme song, it would be "Count Your Blessings." So much to be thankful for and I find that words are not adequate. To be in such a wonderful country, to have a wonderful family, to have a small business that is somewhat successful and to have such wonderful friends. These are the things for which I offer thanks daily, but they seem to come back to me two-fold at this time of the year. This may sound somewhat "corny," but if that's the case, then just call me "Corn-Ball."

It seems only fitting and proper at this time to thank all you fine people for your patronage, and I only hope that we may continue to serve in the future as we have in the past. I, for one, am glad that the Pilgrims started this whole thing, 'cause it at least gives us one day on which we can stop and offer our thanks.

From the staff at Dunton Court Cleaners and from Mrs. Erickson and myself, we would like to wish all of you a most pleasant Thanksgiving.

Good Time Trying

Lorraine and Jerry Stasch took their 3 boys to Spring Valley, Ill., over the weekend, where they visited the Bill McCarthy family. Jerry and Bill worked together in Chicago before the McCarthys moved to Spring Valley. They went hunting together down there where the pheasants are supposed to be walking around just begging to be shot. Although they didn't bring any back, they both had a wonderful time trying.

Nan Stocking, Madeliene Kellar and Lena Moehle were among those who graduated November 14 from the den mothers training program. The program, sponsored by the Northwest Council of Cub Scouts, was held for 6 weeks at North School for mothers who have dens or who anticipate taking dens. The leaders claimed a record-breaking attendance and graduation too.

The Adolph Danes have been mighty busy these days. They took Curt and Sheila to Door County, Wis., which is beautiful country at any time of the year. Then Sunday Sheila made her confirmation in St. James church and later they invited the DeStafina family for their evening dinner. One of the nice features of Sheila's confirmation was that her 17-year-old sister, Sharon, was her sponsor. Mrs. Danes also was a sponsor at the same confirmation for Karon Tolacek. A special treat for Mrs. Danes was when she flew down to Greencastle, Ind., to visit the Hubbard family, who formerly lived in Arlington Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Donchess entertained her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Wells from Shaker Hheights, Ohio, for a week. Right in the middle of their visit the Donchesses sold their house. They are moving soon to a larger home.

Scouts Expect To Meet Quota In Merchants' Fund Drive

A "gratifying response" among Arlington Heights businessmen to the current Boy Scout fund appeal was reported this week by Raoul H. Peeters, Jr., chairman of the business and professional section of the drive.

Peeters said that the section quota of $2,500 will probably be raised by the time final returns are in next week. The overall campaign goal for the village is $10,500.

Residents will be solicited door-to-door starting Saturday. Some 500 volunteer workers have been enlisted in the campaign, with the village divided into 16 zones.

"IF EVERYONE remembers that it requires $11 per boy per year to maintain our splendid Scouting program, I'm sure we'll have no trouble collecting $8,000 in the residential division of the drive," said G. S. (Stu) Fitz-Patrick, chairman.

Volunteers hope for a substantial increase over the $7,900 raised last year, pointing out that Scouting membership has jumped more than 100 boys and 75 adults in the past year. More than 1,000 youths and 300 adults now participate.

Decorators' Magic

J. W. Boress, Interior Decorator for Westgate Home Furnishings

When selecting draperies bear in mind that, as with the selection of furniture, each home has its own window problems and solutions. Each home is treated individually with type of material, color and pattern so that it harmonizes with the rest of the furnishings. A woman selects shoes or bags to harmonize with her dress or coat; she should do the same with her home.

Every window entails individual treatment, based on the type of rod installation. Regular windows, corner windows and bay windows require draw cord traverse rods which move to an open or closed position. One way draw for corner and bay windows. Using a rod which moves from left to right or vice versa. Ceiling installations are used for portieres in doorways or installations in recesses. The advantage of using traverse rods provides a control over light; ventilation and viewing.

Every room in the home can be dressed up —given new beauty and charm with window draperies. There's a whole new family of see-through materials available today — the sheer Fortisan, casement cloths, silks, gauzes, fiber-glass, chromspun, that give complete privacy day and night and you still can enjoy the sunlight by day. If privacy is needed, use the opaque or heavy fabrics — the antique satins, hand prints, gold overlays, screen prints, tweeds, linens boucles, butcher linens, bark cloths; these are made into dynamic patterns and always add beauty and make a better window decoration.

Draperies give adequate privacy to the interior of the room by night and fill the blank windows with background of pattern, beauty and color. (NEXT WEEK: Room Arrangements.)

AHS Again To Offer Student Tour Of East

A down payment of $25 is needed by December 1, and the next payment of $50 is due February 15. The balance will be due March 15. No refunds will be made after February 15.

Plans call for visits to the Capitol building, Supreme court, FBI building, Washington monument, Lincoln memorial, White House, Archive building, Booth theater and other points of interest.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The inability of evil to withstand spiritual understanding of the Christ, Truth, will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday, Nov. 25.

Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" will include the following (Philippians 2:5,13): "Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus . . . For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of his good pleasure."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (287:27): "The five material senses testify to truth and error as united in a mind both good and evil. Their false evidence will finally yield to Truth, —to the recognition of Spirit and of the spiritual creation."

The Golden Text is from III John (1:11): "Beloved, follow not that which is evil, but that which is good."

Step into the wonderful world of AUTODYNAMICS!

It unleashes a hurricane of power!

It tames a tornado of torque
It breaks through the vibration barrier
It is swept-wing mastery of motion

There are many fresh and exciting discoveries awaiting you in the wonderful world of Autodynamics. But none is more exciting than the exhilarating performance you'll experience behind the wheel of a Swept-Wing Dodge.

This low-slung beauty takes off like a scalded cat, rips over hills like a hungry cougar, whips past slow-moving traffic like a gunshy jackrabbit. At your command is a mighty new aircraft-type V-8 engine with up to 310 hp.

And this Swept-Wing Dodge introduces such important advances as Push-Button TorqueFlite that packs a 1-2 punch. Revolutionary new Torsion-Aire that sweeps you along in a "Realm of Silence," masters curves with race car torsion bar suspension. New Total-Contact Brakes – the greatest in the industry!

This is Autodynamics . . . where everything is new from road to roof. It's all yours in a lithe, lean master of motion only 4½ feet high. You have never seen, felt, owned anything like it.

Power Of Prayer Cited By Christian Science Lecturer

Health and happiness are the practical results of understanding how to pray and what to pray for, Archibald Carey of Detroit, Mich., told an audience in Mt. Prospect on November 15.
More and more people are finding that prayer based on spiritual understanding of God brings not only healing but an increasing measure of immunity to sickness of every kind, he declared. Spiritual healing, he said, is making a notable contribution to the health and well-being of the general public.
Dr. Carey spoke in Mt. Prospect Central School under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Des Plaines, in cooperation with First Church of Christ, Scientist, Arlington Heights. His subject was "Christian Science: How Prayer Heals." On extended tour as a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, he was introduced by Miss Margorie Schuttler, Second Reader, Des Plaines.
Healing through prayer — through spiritual means alone — is not supernatural, but supremely natural, the lecturer maintained.
COMMENTING on the Biblical statement, "The prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up" (James 5:15), he declared that "this effective healing prayer is as powerful today as it was in the time of Jesus and his disciples." The "prayer of faith," he said, is not an indiscriminate faith in anything, but an intelligent faith that is based on an understanding of Truth.
God, Truth, is understood in Christian Science to be divine Principle, perfect Mind, Life, Love, Soul, Spirit, he said. "God's universe and man are spiritual and perfect," he declared.
Blind faith in a mysterious God may result in disillusionment and disappointment, he said, emphasizing that faith, founded on understanding is an entirely different thing.
"As we learn to understand the nature of God, and apply this spiritual understanding to the solution of our daily problems," he added, "this brings complete faith in God and in the operation of His laws."
CHRIST JESUS PROVED the quickness and effectiveness of healing based on spiritual understanding, he said, pointing out that Jesus healed sickness and sin of every kind and had complete immunity from disease.
"Think what a contribution he made to the public health of his time by teaching his disciples and others how to use the power of Truth to heal and showing them how to gain immunity to disease," he declared.
Many today, he added, "are finding that an understanding of Christian Science brings an increasing measure of immunity to sickness of all kinds, not only diseases that are considered incurable but also to the minor ailments, such as common colds, inactivity of the digestive system, and so on."
To illustrate the power of prayer, Dr. Carey told of the experience of a man who was informed by specialists that he had a disease for which there was no known cure and that he had only a short time to live.
HE WAS in despair for he was a young man, just at the beginning of a promising career, with a happy home and a devoted family who needed his support. Wanting desperately to live and get well, he turned to a friend who had been healed in Christian Science of a serious malady, the lecturer related.
The young man, he said, described the situation to his friend and told him he had "no faith in the doctors or in a God who could send such a disease to one who tried to do right. He added that he had no faith whatever in Christian Science, but was willing to try anything."
His friend, he went on, assured him of the availability of divine help and brought him some literature including a copy of the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science.
THE YOUNG MAN then asked a Christian Science practitioner for help, the lecturer said. "He learned of a God in whom he could have intelligent faith, and he learned how to pray understandingly to this God. He was completely healed and is a well and successful man today," he stated.
"The 'prayer of faith' based on a spiritual understanding of God had healed him," he declared, adding that through "Christian Science he had learned the basis of a faith that is not at war with reason or intelligence, that does not demand blind mystical accentance, but which is logical and which definitely produced practical results in healing disease that had been considered incurable."

Twice around the world and still like new!

Ford is the first and only car ever to travel 50,000 miles in less than 20 days—at an average speed of over 108 mph! That's more mileage than most people put on their cars at normal speeds in five years!

It happened on the Bonneville Salt Flats in Utah! Two '57 Fords—Ford-prepared, preproduction models, identical in every respect with the cars now offered by your Ford Dealer—proved their mettle in the toughest test of automotive stamina ever attempted!
And at the end of almost 20 days and 50,000 miles of continuous driving (with stops only for pit service) both Fords were still going strong!
This is a true test of the ruggedness built into Ford's new Thunderbird deep-block V-8 engines . . . the match-less stamina of the revolutionary new "Inner Ford." This is a reason—one of many—why your low-priced car dollars can't buy finer than Ford for '57.

Wally Kirchhoff Says

The first Thanksgiving would have been impossible but for the generous sharing of food by the Indians. Now that our country is blessed with food in abundance, it behooves us to share with impoverished nations and, more important, to teach them the farming techniques that have made our country so abundant. Such practical Christianity is needed to evolve a world thankful for Christ and for freedom.

Driver Education Courses Prove Popular With Teens

Interest of Illinois teenagers in proper driving techniques reached a new high during the last school year when 90 per cent of the eligible students in public high schools and 89 per cent of those eligible in private and parochial schools completed driver education courses.

This is the best record compiled by the state in the 9-year history of the Annual National Driver Education award program sponsored by the Association of Casualty and Surety companies.

Governor William G. Stratton in a special ceremony in Chicago last week accepted for the public schools the award of excellence, a bronze plaque emblematic of the top-ranking award in the national program.

ON BEHALF of the private and parochial schools, Governor Stratton accepted a special citation recognizing superior progress in the driver education field. Rt. Rev. Msgr. D. F. Cunningham, superintendent, Archdiocesan school board, represented these schools. Presentation was made by John A. Naghten of Chicago, executive vice president of Illinois Association of Insurance Agents.

Illinois, a pioneer in high school driver education, won lesser awards in 6 previous contests, Naghten pointed out. He attributed winning a top award to "improvement in course quality resulting from strong state support and administration."

He especially praised Governor Stratton for supporting a law enacted at the last session of the legislature that requires high school instruction emphasizing "the development of knowledge attitudes, habits and skills necessary for the safe operation of motor vehicles." With complete enforcement he said this legislation will result in training for all students and put Illinois at the top in driver education.

NAGHTEN SAID that 93 per cent of the public high schools in Illinois offered driver education last year and that training reached 75,560 students. The percentage of private and parochial schools offering driver training increased from 13 per cent in 1954-55 to 48 per cent in 1955-56, and the number of eligible students enrolled from 2,400 to 14,203.

Driver training was described by Naghten as an excellent way to reduce "the horrendous traffic accident toll by instilling safe driving habits in the state's youth." (B7

18 Ladies Bust Treasure Chest

The Emerald Shop's golden Treasure Chest in Arlington Heights either burst its seams, or else 18 lady customers are mighty adept at opening strong locks.

One of the features of the Emerald Shop's 30th anniversary celebration is a huge, locked Treasure Chest. Customers are offered the opportunity of selecting a key from a collection of some 200 assorted keys.

IF THE KEY they select opens the lock on the Chest, the customer selects one of the many valuable merchandise gift certificates contained in the Chest.

In the first 3 days of the Emerald Shop's feature, the following ladies have opened the lock and received free gifts, ranging from boxes of hose to cashmere sweaters:

Mrs. Kenneth Kort, Mrs. E. C. Kohl, Kathleen Latell, Mrs. Helen Sebastian, Mrs. R. Swanson, Mrs. Caroline Wilke, Mrs. John Gleeson, Mrs. Dale Pate, Mrs. W. C. Barkhausen, Mrs. Krueger, Mrs. Otto Savach, and Mrs. Thomas Adam, all of Arlington Heights.

Charlotte Laadt, Mrs. Robert Krantz, and Mrs. Leo Vodicka, all of Palatine. Mrs. W. G. Ricker and Mrs. Ray Fleckenstein, both of Mt. Prospect. Mrs. E. Land, Rolling Meadows.

THE EMERALD Shop, now located at 10-12 N. Dunton in the heart of Arlington Heights, was originally opened as a ladies' wear shop on the northside of the tracks. Founder of the Emerald Shop in 1926 was Mrs. C. M. Behrens, who helped to open the current anniversary festivities.

The shop later moved to 10 N. Dunton and, under Daniel W. Senne, present proprietor of the Emerald Shop, floor space was just about doubled about 4 years ago. At the same time, extensive remodeling made the store's facilities some of the most modern in Arlington Heights.

The 30th anniversary celebration will continue through December 1. (ACM

NEEDLE in the GROOVE

by PAUL LITTLE

West Coast jazz leads the nation in originality, verve and imagination. As examples, we cite "Jazz: West," disced by Aladdin Records (5352 W. Pico, Los Angeles), two 12-inch platters featuring chamber-style groups. One highlights a combo of Jack Sheldon on Trumpet, Zoot Sims riffing a hot tenor sax, Walter Norris at the piano, Ralph Pena and Bob Whitlock alternating on bass, and Gene Gammage and Lawrence Marable changing off on drums. Tunes include "Mad About the Boy" and a sizzling version of "Guatemala," "Ahmoore," "Palermo Walk" and a jaunty "Get Out of Town."

The other 12-incher stars Paul Chambers on bass, the talented Joe Jones on drums, John Coltrane piping a nifty tenor sax, Kenny Drew's inspired pianistics, in a riding-high program including such standouts as "Stablemates," "Visitation," "John Paul Jones," "Dexterity" (which is just that!) and "Easy to Love." More and more, the small combo, backed by up-close hi-fi sound, can create excellent moods and rhythms in modern jazz; these are prime illustrations.

THE RECENT death of Art Tatum robbed us of one of the finest jazz pianists of the century. Norm Granz's 12-inch Clef waxing of "The Genius of Art at No. 11" reminds us happily that there are about a dozen 12-inch samples of Art's magnificently, rhythmic and improvisational jazz style. This latest release shows his skill off in "There's a Small Hotel," "The Way You Look Tonight," a superb driving "Cherokee," "Sophisticated Lady" and "These Foolish Things." Splendid sound.

And Victor's new Camden-labeled 12-inch platter "Great Jazz Pianists" is a wonderful collection in which Art's classic treatment of "Ain't Misbehavin'" stands out in such distinguished company as Oscar Peterson's "Shiek of Araby," Meade Lux Lewis' "Honky Tonk Train Blues," Jelly Roll Morton's great hot "Tank Town Bump" and Duke Ellington's "Rockin' in Rhythm." his disc is a gem; it's CAL-328, priced just under $2 on this economy label and Victor's sound is excellent.

COLUMBIA pays tribute to the brilliant, versatile Leonard Bernstein with 4 12-inch discs characterized by some of the firm's finest hi-fi sound. Bernstein is a superb pianist and conductor, a classical composer, and also capable of writing enchanting popular music like "Fancy Free" and the TV opera "Trouble in Tahiti." He is also a magnificent lecturer and speaker on music, which facet he revelas on Columbia's 12-inch disc CL-918.

Dr. Bruno Walter and the Philharmonic Symphony of New York play the mighty Beethoven Fifth Symphony in C Minor, and on the reverse side Bernstein domonstrates with orchestral illustrations how the work would have sound had Beethoven used some of his original sketches. On Columbia CL-920, he directs the Columbia Symphony in 3 great contemporary scores: his own delectable "Fancy Free," Aaron Copland's "El Salon Mexico," and Milhaud's remarkable French-negro-jazz score "La Creation du Monde." Are You Seeking Work? Asks U. S.

Special questions will be asked in the November Current Population Survey to determine if unemployed persons are seeking full-time or part-time work, according to Supervisor Guy A. Lutz of the U. S. Census Bureau's field office at Chicago, which will participate in the survey.

These special questions, asked 4 times a year, round out the labor force statistics provided by Current Population Survey monthly inquiries on employment and unemployment by furnishing information on the availability of part-time workers.

IN MAY of this year, around 11 per cent of the unemployed men were seeking part-time jobs while 17 per cent of the unemployed women were seeking part-time rather than full-time jobs.

Of the unemployed men seeking part-time jobs in May, 52 per cent were between 14 and 17 years of age while 11 per cent were 65 years of age and over. Thirty-seven per cent of the unemployed women seeking part-time work in May were in the 14-17 year age bracket.

THE SPECIAL part-time work questions, together with the usual inquiries on employment and unemployment, will be asked during the week of November 18 as part of the nation-wide Current Population Survey which is conducted each month on a sample basis by the Census Bureau.

This Week with PTA

Stop fixing the turkey for a few minutes, have a cup of coffee and catch up on the news of PTA this week! ! !

Are You Prepared For Snow And Ice!!!

Parents can outfit their children for the cold and icy weather by taking advantage of the PTA boot and skate exchange sale.

The sale will be held at the Junior high gym Saturday, Dec. 1 from 10 a.m. until noon.

Anyone interested in selling their children's outgrown boots and skates can send them to school with the children Thursday, Nov. 29 and Friday, Nov. 30. Ways and means representatives who will collect them ask that the items be labeled with name, address, telephone number and the price desired for each item.

Mom and dad can equip all youngsters with boots, rubbers, ice skates and roller skates at a substantial savings.

Mrs. Frederick Gorder, chairman of the sale, announced that the PTA nets 20 per cent of the sale and the balance is held for the parents to pick up after the sale.

Junior High PTA Meeting

Judging from the October parents' nights' attendance of nearly 1000 parents, the gymnasium should be well filled next Tuesday, Nov. 27 at 8:15 p.m.

A member of the Family Service agency, the new counseling service for the northwest area, will speak briefly, after which girls from all 3 grades will model their own dress creations, the fruit of their 13 weeks' work in the home economics department. The style show will be directed by Miss Mary Ruth Offringa and Mrs. Betty Nuss.

Following on the heels of this bevy of beauties will appear a neat package of pulchritude, charm and intelligence in the person of Miss Rita Campbell, director of the department of nutrition, National Live Stock and Meat Board.

Her subject, 'Adolescents Travel on Their Stomachs," is one of interest and importance to all parents and Junior high children, and questions from the audience will be welcomed following her address.

A native of Canada, Miss Campbell received her bachelor's degree in home economics and her M.S. in nutrition from the University of Manitoba. After 7 years of service at the meat board, she was appointed director of nutrition in July, 1954.

Her work entails preparation of educational literature, including charts, diet booklets, and a monthly bulletin, as well as the preparation of exhibits for medical and dental meetings and frequent appearances on radio and television.

Mothers of sixth grade sections 4 and 5 will serve refreshments in the cafeteria following the meeting.

Remember Radio???

Try it Thursday nights, station WIND at 8:15 to 9:30 p.m. and hear "This We Believe," a public service program presented by the division of radio and television of the Chicago public schools in cooperatin with the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers. The rest for your eyes might prove entertaining and enlightening.

Happy Thanksgiving!!!

Hungarian Crisis Gives New Impetus To Clothing Drive

An urgent call for relief clothing for stricken people in war torn areas of the world, particularly Hungarian refugees, undergirds the annual Thanksgiving clothing appeal sponsored by the Lutheran Council of Greater Chicago.

The appeal has gone to 430 Lutheran churches in the Chicago area including Faith, St. Peter and Our Saviour Lutheran churches in Arlington Heights. Clothing will be received in congregations November 18-25.

Overseas distribution is made by Lutheran Word Relief, international Lutheran relief agency, to the most needy irrespective of race or creed. Lutheran World Relief shipments were included in the truck convey which reached Budapest November 2, before the national uprising was crushed by Soviet Russia. More recently, shipments have gone in to Hungary, and it is the belief of relief officials that relief convoys will be allowed to continue.

Approximately 200,000 pounds of relief clothing is received annually from Lutheran churches in the Chicago area, according to Clifford Dahlin, executive director. Shipments made through Lutheran World Relief are distributed largely to refugees and go to Jordan, Syria, Korea, Yugoslavia, Formosa, Berlin, Hong Kong, Trieste, as well as Austria.

The Rev. John P. Petersen, pastor, and Caroline Neas and Gregory Zehner, teen-age members of Our Saviour Lutheran church, meeting at Dryden school, will appear on the "This Way Up" television program next Sunday at 9:30 a.m.

This program, seen on channel 2, regularly features a religious quiz with teen-agers competing. However, next Sunday the time will be given over to a panel discussion on family devotions.

Pastor Petersen will act in the capacity of the "authority" to pass on the validity of whatever statements the young participants may make. Miss Neas and Zehner will serve on the 6-member panel.

The program is part of the December family devotions emphasis of the Chicagoland Lutheran Evangelism mission. Pastor Petersen is chairman of a special committee that has planned the emphasis, which includes poster projects, essay contests, special topics for parish auxiliaries and promotion through such public communication media as the "This Way Up" program.

Miss Neas, 201 N. Brighton ave. is one of the charter members of Our Saviour church. She is 12 years old and a student at the Arlington Heights Junior high school. Zehner, 20 S. Salem ave., is also a charter member. Last Sunday he became a communicant member through the rite of confirmation. Gregory is 13 years old and a student at Arlington Heights high school.

Symphony Season To Begin

The Northwest Symphony orchestra reports it is in the process of making final arrangements for its first concert of the current season which is to be given Sunday, December 2 at 3:30 p.m. in the auditorium of Maine Township high school.

The orchestra, in its fifth season under the direction of Perry Crafton, is composed of some 75 talented amateur musicians from the northwest section of Chicago; Park Ridge, Des Plaines, Morton Grove, Glenview, Evanston, Northbrook, Arlington Heights, Palatine, Barrington and Highland Park, who have gained the reputation of performing in a most professional manner.

Jack Hansen, pianist, well known to Chicagoland music followers, will be the guest artist.

Season tickets for the 3 concerts are $3 and may be purchased from playing members of the orchestra and Mrs. Carman Fish, TA 3-5955, or Mrs. Savena Gorsline, VA 4-1270. (B7

Strong Winds Buffet Village

Strong winds that buffeted Arlington Heights Thursday night gave the folks around St. James and Vail sts. some anxious moments.

A tree in the yard of Edna B. Taege, 314 N. Vail, was blown down about 10:45 p.m. and took down electrical wires with it. Lights along the block went out. The gale force winds caught the snapped wires and swung one of them up against a metal school warning sign.

CURRENTS arcing from the wire to the sign furnished residents with a display of electrical fireworks until Public Service repairmen arrived to shut off the electricity. It went on again at 2 a.m.

A village crew removed the tree Friday morning.

FUTURE CUB SCOUT DEN MOTHERS, Den Dads and cub committeemen competed in a hoop relay during the final night of classes last Wednesday. Right Wingers Accuse US Attorney Of 'Prejudice'

Two men indicted for not identifying themselves as the publishers of political campaign material have filed a motion in federal court to dismiss the indictment as unconstitutional.

They are John E. Crippen, of 635 N. Merrill, Park Ridge, and Theodore W. Miller, of 418 Edgewood, River Forest.

A GRAND JURY indicted them for failing to list any officers of the Anti-Communist League on material sent out under league auspices.

Their motion to dismiss the indictment charges the statute requiring persons who send out campaign literature to put their names on it is an abridgment of the rights of a free press and free speech.

The motion charges that the assistant U. S. attorney who presented the case to the grand jury was "biased and prejudiced," which they say can be borne out by a reading of the transcript of the grand jury hearings.

CRIPPEN TOLD newsmen he publications which don't list officers of the organizations which issue them.

Among them, Crippen said, is campaign literature distributed by the Democratic and Republican parties, "the Americans for Democratic Action, the Independent Voters of Illinois and other left-wing and Communist front organizations."

Crippen points out that in his newspaper column, 'Facts and Fancy' he had on Nov. 1 — the day before he was indicted — mentioned his authorship of the campaign pamphlet in question. Crippen says the column is sent free to newspaper editors and is printed in some 25 papers. It has never appeared in any of the Paddock Publications. (ACM

State Aid Group Shown Handiwork From Oak Forest

Dan Ryan, president of the Cook county board of commissioners, sent 40 pieces of arts-crafts, made by patients of Cook County's Oak Forest institution, to the Illinois Public Aid Commissions' meeting November 9.

The Oak Forest technique was explained to Welfare Representatives of Illinois' 102 counties relating patients' disabilities and abilities taught.

At Oak Forest many patients' hospitalization is provided by Public Aid.

On display were ceramics, leathercraft, copper-enamel jewelry, original oil paintings, wood work and woven rugs and baskets.

In the ceramic display was a complete place setting, with the new deep dish turned up sides, fired in the kiln of the suburban hospital's vocational therapy department, by a hemiplegic, taught to use her one functioning arm to advantage.

A delicate ceramic basket, made by a recently discharged Oriental who is a diabetic and a chef, was eyed for its workmanship, while the Oak Forest representative told of the patient's adjustment and response to therapy.

LEATHER WORK, such as the floral-tooled new Carson City oval woman's handbag, and wallets, were exhibited to show the work produced as patients develop muscle dexterity and coordination.

Oak Forest staff doctors and consultants prescribe these rehabilitative treatments. Patients attend classes under trained instructors. Treatment varies from once a week and sessions last from one to five hours.

An oil painting of a Negro baby, by a woman confined to a wheel chair with a generalized disabling osteo arthritic deformity, for 17 years at Oak Forest, indicated the need for therapy during long-term illness.

THE LURE of paint brush and canvas got one very uncooperative patient out of bed and into a wheel chair, and sufficiently interested in looking well at classes to comb her hair. Stimulation of the art work has not only removed her apathy, but given her an appetite and the will to learn to feed herself.

This woman's thatched roof cottage in the painting shows a sereneness which has also come to her person with advancement in therapy.

Oak Forest patients interested in painting have a studio where they colonize daily from 8:00 a.m. to 400 p.m.

CORRECTIVE shoes made at Oak Forest were also displayed. The county representative outlined the type of instruction given to patients wishing to learn the cobbler's trade, and showed woodcraft such as reindeer and sleigh which will be centerpieces for Oak Forest patients' tables this Christmas.

Oak Forest technique and economy of therapy operation, possible because much equipment is made at the Institution, was saluted at the annual meet as it was in Peoria recently during an Illinois Welfare Association Conference, attended by County Home representatives, County superintendents and others interested in welfare throughout the state. Pheasant and Sage Pheasants which have spent a life in the wild (as compared to game farm birds) seldom come with much fat on them and so tend to be dry in roasting unless preventative steps are taken. One satisfactory method is to rub the bird well with olive oil and wrap in toweling for an hour or so. A second application is usually desirable if the first is absorbed readily.

Baked pheasant with sage dressing is a hard combination to beat and the same dressing recipe you use for chicken fills the bill nicely. Place the stuffed bird on a rack in the roaster and bake until brown in a hot oven (425 degrees), then reduce heat to slow (300 degrees), cover pan and continue baking for 2½ hours.

Here is one of my favorite dressings. Melt 5 tablespoons butter in pan and in it saute until transparent 1 medium onion sliced and quartered and ¼ cup diced celery. Add 4 cups bread crumbs, 1½ teaspoons sage, 1 teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper. Mix well. (Sp

Card Cagers Off To Palatine Wednesday, Elgin Friday

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by Bob Paddock

FORMER ARlington football player Lew Green who helped the locals out of many a tough spot with his kicking, is a member of the frosh grid squad at Purdue . . . Lew currently stands 6-3, weighs 188, and is a quarterback prospect . . . Among 6 returning basketball lettermen at Carthage is Arlington's Tom Bowersox, standing 6-5, who now calls Northbrook home . . . John Busch of Palatine is 1 of 4 returning cage lettermen at Dubuque, it rated "a scrapper who will see quite a bit of action this year" . . . Season opener is at Cornell Nov. 30 . . . Grid reports from DeKalb indicate Hinsdale's Larry Kellum was bothered by an injury early in the season, was used sparingly, eventually dropped from the squad . . . Tom Skubich of Hinsdale was Northern's leading ground-gainer from right halfback, copping his third letter . . . He's also an outstanding hurdler in track . . . Al Schoenbach of York (6-1 and 176) and Hank Mesewicz of Riverside (6-2 and 190) worked their way into top positions among DeKalb ends late in the season and were rated 2 of Coach Fletcher's top freshman performers at season's end . . . Schoenbach took over starting right end spot in Northern's final 3 outings . . . Seeing regular guard duty on the co-champion Knox grid squad was Bob Peters, former York grid champ in '53 . . . Listed among Illini wrestlers at 130 is Norb Sargent of Arlington . . . John Pendexter of LaGrange snared a TD pass for Yale in winning another game Saturday . . . CAGE FANS will have to use their crystal ball Friday night if they want to watch that Elgin game . . . Host Watch City school sent over just 106 ducats to the high school with notation that limited seating capacity makes it useless for those without tickets to even drive over . . . Oh, well, next year 4,000 will be able to watch the same game if necessary . . . Kay Weisengerber and Doral Rose of girls physical education staff at Arlington attended state meeting of PE teachers Thursday and Friday at Springfield.

Wrestling coaches Dick Mudge and Maurice Kellogg became so enthused at the grappling clinic at Navy Pier last Wednesday night they climbed into the ring, themselves, and "went to it."

No, they weren't sore at each other, just intent on picking up a few new holds and wishing to try them out immediately after hearing of them while the others went to dinner . . . They aren't saying who won . . . Booster club sports rally is now history with a large crowd attending Wednesday night in the gym . . . All the fall and winter sports squads were presented with numerals and letters for fall activities presented . . . MC for the affair was Herb Carl . . . Varsity cagers demonstrated the 5 major rules changes, with refreshments following the entire affair.

BISON SPORTS BANQUET date has been set at Fenton high school, though the speaker for the evening has not been announced as yet . . . Date is Dec. 8 . . . Fenton has "catered banquets" by the way, in the interest of economy, right in the high school cafeteria . . . Hinsdale gridders have finished 4th or better ever since Coach Harvey Dickinson took over in 1940 . . . Michigan State will hold a basketball coaches clinic this weekend with Everett Dean of Stanford, H. B. Lee of Kansas State and Forddy Anderson of State on the agenda . . . Forddy formerly coached at Bradley . . . Bears' Larry Strickland serves Lombard sportsman's club in an advisory capacity.

Cage coaches clinic at Illinois Dec. 16-17 will include Phil Woolpert of San Francisco, Lee Pfund of Wheaton, and Edwardsville high school mentor Joe Lucco.

Yale and Penn have been playing football so long. Yale is the only school in the country which has passed the 16,000 point mark . . . Penn tallied 15,000, No. 2 in the nation . . . New athletic conference in the offing will include Marmion, St. Procopius, Notre Dame, Joliet Catholic, St. Bede of Peru and St. Francis of Wheaton . . . Then there's the Wilmington high school which is dropping football because of "too many autos and girls, not enough interest" in the grid sport . . . Bloom, South Suburban league champ, and regional and sectional winner, has 6 lettermen back.

Rose Bowl officials are shuddering at the thought of a rematch of Iowa and Oregon State . . . Two clubs met earlier in the season with the Hawks winning, 14-13 . . . Illini grad Bill Ridley gave football a try at Ft. Leonard Wood but ended up on crutches with a knee injury . . . Champaign high lays claim to highest scoring team in the state with a 380-18 margin.

A NEW PLAN is being introduced in the Big Ten this year which will shuffle the numbers of basketball players this winter. When a team is playing at home it will wear even numbers and when on the road it will wear odd numbers. The old plan of no digit in excess of five will be adhered to also.

The new setup will eliminate much of the confusion when many times during a game members of the opposite teams would have identical numbers on. Under the new plan at no time during the game will there be two players on the floor with the same number.

DOWN BENSENVILLE WAY the newly formed AAU basketball team will open its season Wednesday, Nov. 28, against Park Forest in Blackhawk Jr. high gym . . . Visitors supposedly includes most of last year's Rich high school team minus "Jolley Roger" Taylor, now at Illinois . . . Recent sports banquet speaker at Glenbard was Northwestern athletic director Stu Holcomb . . . Ohio State has now drawn 80,000-plus crowds 16 games in a row . . . Last crowd under that figure was 79,524 against California in 1954 . . . Purdue outweighed Northwestern 10-pounds per man in the line Saturday, but the Wildcats still won the ball game . . . Suburban league press and radio sports writers association entertained that loop's basketball coaches last week, getting an insight into cage prospects.

Ronald Gibbs, well-known sports official, will be sports speaker at Carthage college Thursday night, Nov. 29, where Arlington's Johnny Eakins will be honored after his fourth year of varsity football.

Big 10 officials will meet in Chicago Dec. 5-8 to act on grant-in-aid program which has been recommended . . . Under the new program any athlete receiving unauthorized aid would lose his eligibility permanently . . . Five sophomores among Illini grid starters against Northwestern this week include George Utz and Ron Nietupski at tackles, Jack Delveaux at fullback, Bill Offenbecher at quarterback and Dale Smith at halfback . . . Abe Woodson may be a No. 1 draft pick of the pro teams . . . That selection will be made by either the Packers or Cardinals, with the Green Bay squad already notifying Abe they'll call him if they get the chance . . . With Woodson hailing from Chicago, he'd be a natural with the Cards.

Fans Hope Hts. Can Go Far In League Play

The Cards won a ball game.

They did it in fine style, 77-33.

Just what that has to do with the coming West Suburban conference race, or the Palatine and Elgin games Wednesday and Friday nights of this week is the big question.

PALATINE is always rough for the Cardinals. Past records or comparative size of student bodies rarely have anything to do with the outcome of this game.

Arlington will have its hands full facing the Pirates, who have a lot of experience behind them. That game is scheduled for Wednesday night, Nov. 21, at Palatine. The hosts are putting in extra bleachers, offering seats to 3,000 fans.

AT ELGIN Friday night it'll be a different story insofar as fans are concerned. Arlington high school has received just 106 tickets for that game, with a few still available at the high school office. Fans not having tickets in hand might just as well stay home Friday night.

The Woodstock game was good news for fans, but poses the question as to how the Cardinals will stack up against the tougher West Suburban league schools. The locals hit 47% from the field and 73% from the free throw line, a very creditable pair of marks that will be hard to equal in future games.

Tom Grey and Jack Weber played exceptionally well against Woodstock considering the pair had been out for basketball just 5 days. Bill Palmer's rebounding was good, setting up many a bucket for his teammates. Bob Lockwood and Bruce Bjorklund appeared well poised for their first varsity contest.

COACH LESTER was able to substitute freely the first half, giving the entire squad of 15 an opportunity to see action. Jerry Klement wasn't able to dress for the Woodstock game due to a leg infection, but is expected to be ready to go this week.

The Cardinals have their share of height, which will match well against Palatine, but Elgin may be another story. The Maroons have 6-6 Brant at centers plus a pair of 6-4 forwards. They are expected to be strong in the Big 8 conference, and will be a tough obstacle for the locals on their home floor.

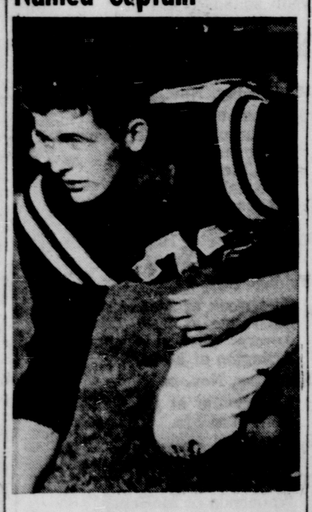
THE FROSH-SPOHS also plan to use the same lineup against Palatine as they did in tripping Woodstock, 50-20. This included 6-3 Ed Whitelaw at forward, 6-1 Don Gerken at center, 6-foot Pat Corteen at forward, and Lee Magnusen and Dave Varnado at the guards.

Defensive play was the strong point of Coach Frank Bohac's Arlington frosh-sophs. They held Woodstock to just 10 points the first 3 quarters, then saw just 1 visitor hit for 4 baskets and 2 free throws the final segment. Entire team played well, particularly in handling the ball. (Sp

Named Captain



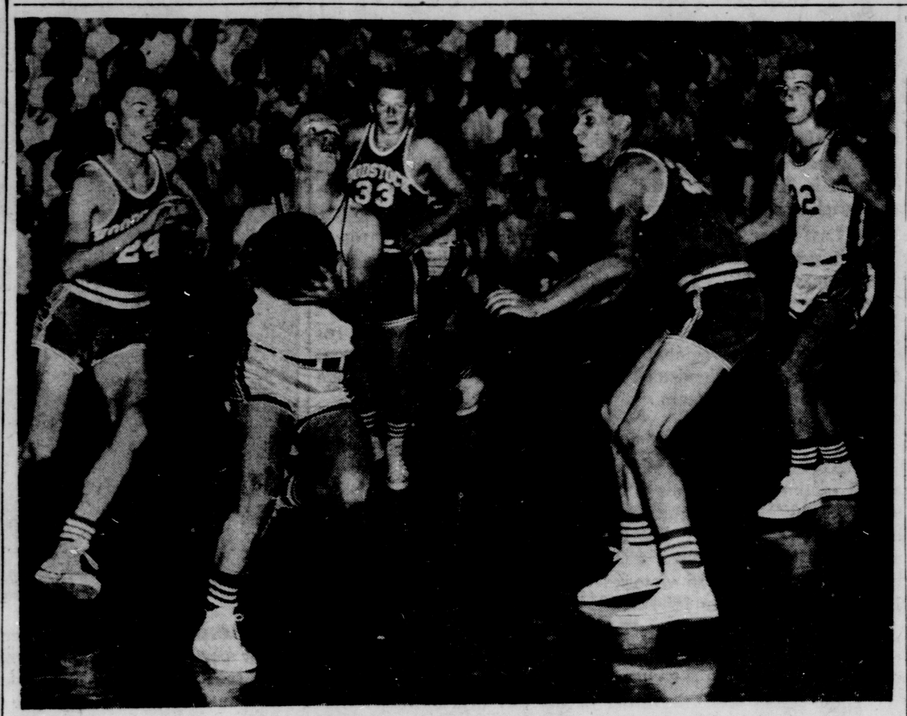
Bob Creviston has been picked by teammates to be football captain next year at Arlington high school. Bob went both ways, playing a terrific tackle wtih his 6-3 200-pound stature. He has a lot of desire, should be an outstanding leader, and hopes to play college football.

No Wires

The first wireless message was transmitted across the Atlantic December 12, 1901 by Marconi.

Protection

The American Society of Composers and Publishers (ASCAP) was organized to protect against copyright infringements.



DENNY THILL goes under the basket for Arlington against Woodstock Friday night to help his mates drub the visitors, 77-33. Waiting at the right is Jack Weber (32) for Heights. Seen for Woodstock are Bob Keil (24), and Bill Justen (33).

Frosh-Soph Grapplers At Arlington To Have Balance

Frosh-soph wrestling squad should have balance at Arlington high school, according to Coach Maurice Kellogg, as he put his 80 candidates through their paces.

"Lack of space and enough mats is forcing us to make some cuts," stated Kellogg. "We've grouped the boys in 3 categories, old sophs, new sophs and freshmen, with each unit taking turns on the mats. This gives them all a certain amount of exercise, but we'll have to cut to 48 or 50 first and second year boys to gain a workable unit."

IT'S BEST to have 2 sophomores and 2 freshmen fighting for starting positions at each weight. Coach Kellogg should have that "problem" inasmuch as he has 5 95-pounders, 7 175-pounders and 4 heavyweights. In between there are a lot of would-be wrestlers, some of them showing know-how from the grade school program conducted by coaches Kellogg and Mudge the past couple of years.

There are "no regulars" back from last year's frosh-sophs that had such a creditable record. Just 3 boys, Dave Ebert, Dave Buren and Jeff Heintz, are back, but were starters in only 2 or 3 meets last season. This is a building year for the yearlings, with one-third of the 80 candidates "new sophs" who did not come out for the sport as freshmen.

THE VARSITY doesn't have the depth of the younger squad, but there is certain to be plenty of keen competition for starting roles in the 127-154 pound weights. There are not enough boys at each end of the list to provide enough competition for winning wrestling.

Coach Dick Mudge has asserted there won't be much chance for either squad to stuff itself with turkey Thursday. Morning workouts are scheduled, as are further practice sessions during the weekend. The boys will have their holiday layoff at Christmas time.

BOB LOCKWOOD (35) goes up in the air for this one for Arlington against Woodstock Friday night, the locals winning easily, 77-33. Others waiting for the ball in this jump ball situation are Bill Palmer (33), Tom Jacobsen (34), Pat Brownell (41) and Bruce Bjorklund (42) for Arlington. Seen for Woodstock are Curt Schacht (30), John Hanley (23) and Gene Burmeister (22). This week the Cardinals travel to Palatine Wednesday night and Elgin Friday evening.

Release Frosh, JV Cage Schedule

Coach Dick Kinneman has named 6 boys who've shown a lot of promise thus far, though many others haven't had too much opportunity as yet to show what they can do. John Gorman is another JV who shows well, but it is still too early to know just who will start. Even less is known of the freshmen by Coach Ken Schaller. Most Valuable

Ashley Haase has been named most valuable player of the football season, just completed. Teammates selected him for his work of being the most dependable running back on the team, going both ways, and doing a good job at halfback on defense.

Card Frosh-Sophs Stop Woodstock In 50-20 Tilt

Woodstock's freshman-sophomore basketball squad was able to score only one field goal in the first half as Arlington's topped the visitors 50-20 in the season's opener Friday night. Nine players got their name in the tally sheet as the boys divided up the scoring honors.

Oddly enough it was a Woodstock boy who walked off with the individual scoring prize in the game. Pat Jensen tallied 12 points to personally account for 60 per cent of his team's total of 20.

The visitors were never seriously in the ball game. The young Cards jumped off to a 14-2 lead at the first quarter's end, Woodstock's points coming on a pair of free throws.

The game resembled a slow-break contest in the second canto as the locals outscored Woodstock 10-3 to take a 24-5 lead at halftime. Lacking in size and ability, the visitors resigned themselves to the role of sparring partner for Coach Bohac's lads.

ARLINGTON moved to a 43-10 lead at the end of the third quarter before the diminutive Pat Jensen took over for the losers. Jensen scored all ten of his team's points in the final stanza to top the 7 point output by Arlington's second stringers, who had taken over the helm. However, his efforts went to waste since he was fighting against a 30 point lead.

Bohac started Pat Corteen and Ed Whitelaw at the forwards, Don Gerken at center, and Lee Magnusen and Dave Varnado at the guards. (Sp

Arlington Has Easy Time In Cage Opener, 77-33

Arlington's Cardinals launched their 1956-57 hardwood campaign with a 77-33 victory over Woodstock at the Cards' gym last Friday night. The visitors offered little or no opposition against the taller, faster Cardinal squad.

Tom Jacobsen, Redbird center, tallied 21 points in the first half and went on to lead his mates in the scoring department with 27 points. Bob Lockwood's 19 point total was second high in the initial basketball test (?).

Coach Howard Lester substituted freely as he sent in everyone with a uniform on, 15. Nine boys made the scoring column.

THAT WOODSTOCK was completely outclassed is evidenced by the fact that the Cardinals went on two scoring sprees, one of 16 and another of 20 points, while holding the visitors scoreless.

Although the game produced some scoring standouts it was primarily a team victory for Arlington. Each of the starters and several of the reserves exhibited skills which should aid the locals considerably this season. Bob Lockwood and Bill Palmer cleared the rebounds while the defensive work of Bruce Bjorklund, Pat Brownell, and Tom Grey was outstanding.

WHEN Arlington started out in a rather shaky manner, fans feared a typical opener in the semi-football, nature. However, the Cards settled down late in the first quarter and held a 18-9 edge going into the second frame. Jacobsen had scored 13 of the team's 18 points.

Woodstock was held to two baskets and a lonely free throw in the second quarter as Arlington pulled out to a commanding 40-14 halftime advantage. It was during this quarter that the Birds tallied 16 points in a row. Lester's shifting man-to-man defense quelled any of the visitors' hopes.

SHORTLY AFTER the second half got underway Arlington racked up 20 consecutive points while holding Woodstock scoreless. Lester began to throw in the reserves but this did not prevent the Red and White from taking a 62-20 lead at the three-quarter mark.

The losers put on their best showing of the evening in the final stanza, holding the Birds to a 15-13 advantage for the quarter.

Arlington's 21 successes in 29 free throw attempts gave them a .710 percentage for the night. Woodstock made only 7 of 24 gratis shots.

Coach Lester insisted his boys "had a long way to come," but seemed pleased by their opening appearance. He stated the difference between this year's opener and last yar's was that he felt free to substitute early in the game. (Sp

MAC SAYS

by G. A. McELROY

TONIGHT (Wednesday) Palatine and Arlington Heights will renew a cage rivalry which dates back to the mid-twenties. Our records which are complete since 1931 show 25 wins for Arlington and 19 for Palatine. Tonight when Palatine is host to the Cardinals, they open the season with a new coach and a new system.

Last year the night before Thanksgiving Arlington administered the most one sided beating in the series of 44 games 74-35. This year the Cardinals are also top heavy favorites.

Arlington has good transfers to add to the veterans returning from their regional championship team of last season. Arlington crushed Woodstock Friday and rates a 20 point edge over Palatine's young team.

IN RECENT YEARS Arlington has held quite an edge on the Pirates who have won only 2 of the last 17 and 3 of the last 20 against the Cardinals. It was not always that way. While Arlington had a streak of 10 straight victories between 1947 and 1951, Palatine also had a 10 straight record against Arlington between 1937 and 1944. Also Palatine can boast of an edge of 16 victories to Arlington's 2 from 1933 to 1944 and 15 to 1 from 1934 to 1944.

Looking back in our "Mac Says" column of 20 years ago we find mention that for the period from 1931 to 1937 each team had won 6 games.

Close scores were the order of the day in Palatine-Arlington games of the early thirties with Palatine's average margin of victory 2.33 points while Arlington's winning edge averaged 2.17. Five points was the greatest margin in the 12 games.

CARL MEGEL coached the Pirates 1931-35 and had a 5-5 record against Arlington coached by Jack Grose. The writer of this column coached Palatine basketball from 1935-44 and held a 11-1 record against teams coached by Jack Grose and Ray Hayes including the 10 straight streak from 1937 to 1944. The one loss was a 19-16 game at Arlington in 1936.

Palatine's 10 straight streak started the first Friday in December of 1937 when Palatine won at Arlington by the low score of 21-18. Palatine came from behind with an 18-16 deficit in the last minute and a half to cop the victory.

Cliff Haemker scored 11, John O'Brien 7 and "Bud" Nangle 2 for the Pirates. Later in the season Palatine again whipped Arlington in a doubleheader winning the varsity game 42-20 for the greatest margin ever recorded by Palatine over the Cards. It was a 16-3 last quarter paced by "Bud" Nangle's 7 points which turned the trick with O'Brien scoring 16 and the team hitting 29%, a high percentage in those days. From that point Palatine's 10 straight included such onesided victories as 39-20, 52-39, 36-21, and 46-29.

ONE OF THE THRILLERS of the series was a 28-27 victory at Arlington January 8, 1943 decided by George Cramer's two free throws in the last 5 seconds of the second overtime period. Palatine's star center and leading scorer, "Bucky" Harris, was out of this game ill and the Cards almost overcame the Palatine jinx. The next month, with Harris in the lineup Palatine whipped the Cardinals 46-29.

Starting in 1945 Arlington broke the streak with 46-28 and 42-27 victories. Palatine took a 27-24 game in December of 1947 but from that point Arlington racked up 10 in a row and continued to date with 15 of the last 17.

Clarence Iba, who now coaches Tulsa university, broke the Palatine monopoly and Iba along with Gene Bell, his successor, ran up the straight victory streak. Bell had played on the national champion Oklahoma A.&M. team coached by Henry Iba and handled basketball at Arlington from 1947-51. He now lives in Arlington Heights and is employed by the Crane Company, manufacturers of plumbing equipment.

Ray deGreef handled the varsity cage team at Arlington from 1951 to 1953, coming here from coaching at Quincy College and at present successfully coaching at St. Borgia High in Washington, Missouri. Since 1953 Howard Lester has been at the cage helm at Arlington, coming from Shelbyville.

FROM 1944 TO 1952 Earl Stutzman, now athletic director, was head basketball coach at Palatine and from 1952-56 Gene Moylan was in charge. Moylan left last August to coach at Winnemucha, Nevada and John Fabri came from Lake View high of Decatur. Palatine lost 20 of 22 games last year and Fabri has his work cut out for him to bring Palatine back to its usual winning ways on the hardwood court.

In the modern series of Arlington's victories there have been close games. The narrowest margin was a 61-56 game at Arlington January 24, 1951 and the most onesided in the 10 game streak was a 46-23 game in the 1949 regional tournament.

A year ago Wednesday the 74-35 victory was Palatine's worst defeat. Palatine's only wins since 1947 were a 47-38 regional tournament victory in 1947 and a 61-59 thriller at Arlington January 23, 1954 when Alan Eck dribbled the length of the floor for the winning basket with 10 seconds to go.

PALATINE'S WORST performance against Arlington was in the Palatine holiday tournament of December 1948 when Arlington beat the Pirates 32-4. In that game Palatine's only basket was scored with just 3 minutes remaining in the game. It was also the first of 4 beatings Palatine suffered at the hands of the Cardinals that season.

Back in 1943 the Dads club of Arlington put up the sleighbells trophy as an incentive to the Cards to stop Palatine's domination of the basketball relations between the two schools. Palatine won the first two games but after that took just 3 more while Arlington has 17 victories inscribed on the plaque. It appears the Dads club got things going but more than that was the improvement in material and the coaching of Clarence Iba.

Rate Grayslake 1st Division; Wauconda Short On Experience

by G. A. McELROY

(This is the second in a series of three articles about Northwest Conference cage prospects in schools outside the Paddock area).

Grayslake tied with Palatine for last place in the conference a year ago with only 2 victories in 14 league games but this year most of the coaches rate the Rams first division. This rating is based on the ability of 4 returning regulars, plus boys from a good frosh-soph team.

Denny Hunziker, 5-9 play making guard, is the key to Grayslake hopes. Hunziker has been a regular on the varsity two previous years and will captain the 1956-57 squad. He is a good long shot and a clever ball handler.

LORN ANDERSON, who transferred from Grant last year and played fine ball in spurts, will likely get the call at center and stands 6-1. Ernie Ritta, a good scoring guard will team with Hunziker to give the Rams a very good back court combination. Clarence Hanson 5-11 came along fast as a point getting forward last year and may cinch a front court position. Grayslake has a flock of juniors moving up but most of them lack height. Ken Anderson 5-10, Dick Blasius 5-11, and John Bauer 5-7 were reserves last year who played too little to win an award. Grayslake will be handicapped on rebounds and may have a lineup with only one boy standing as tall as six feet.

Walter Nesheim, assistant principal, will again coach the varsity with Carl Miller taking charge of the sophs and football coach Pat Rooney at the helm for frosh ball. Wednesday night the Rams will play at Hebron and be at home to Libertyville on Saturday evening. They open at home against Grant, one of their most formidable conference opponents.

WAUCONDA GRADUATED 4 good regulars last year and will be short on experience and talent. Gone are Gene Jaskot, Ed Okpisz, Koko Svec, and Bob Pintozzi. Jaskot was a regular for four years and an all league selection the last two. Okpisz was a 6-7 center who, while not a star, was a real problem for all opponents. Svec was one of the best long shots in conference history, up among the leaders though only standing 5-6.

Returning are Bill Weinberg who has been a regular two seasons, Ron Smith who saw considerable action last year, and Dennis Freund who was small but a late season arrival to good playing form. Ken Wesnewski and Vernon Lincoln were also letter winners though seeing limited service. Harley Ridgway and Lloyd Allison are juniors who may make the first team. Ridgway is tallest man on the squad at 6-1½. Wauconda like Grayslake and Ela-Vernon will lack height needed to be a contender.

ON TOP of that handicap the Bulldogs lack experience and a standout player to pace the team. It looks like a rough season for Wauconda unless some of the new boys come through better than expected. For several seasons Wauconda frosh-soph teams have been below par and it will this year have its effect on the varsity team.

The Bulldogs will open the league season November 30 against Antioch, favored by many to win the championship. Next Tuesday November 27 they will travel to McHenry of the North Suburban League Coaching the Bulldogs will be a new coach Sam Renno. John Callahan will direct the sophomores and Harley Ridgway will guide the destiny of the first year squad. (Sp

Wrestlers To Meet Waukegan At Palatine

Lacking experienced wrestlers in the heavier weights, Coach Ellis is not very optimistic about his team's chances a sthey face Waukegan Friday followed by Niles and New Trier in the next two weeks. Andy Anderson, Karl Schwenk, Denny Lundgren and Bob Nordin, are the only lettermen available as 3 monogram winners of last year are still ineligible from the last part of the football season. (Sp

Libertyville Too Much For Antioch

Libertyville's green cage team, made up largely of juniors, whipped Antioch's Northwest conference favorites 66-45 Saturday night in the first game of the season for both teams. Libertyville shot 40 per cent and Antioch 19 per cent.

Wayne Herbst, Antioch center, connected for 23 points the same as the total made by Oschner of Libertyville. Antioch's starting five was Gregeon and Christensen at guards, Herbst at center, and Huml and Hanke at forwards. Antioch won the frosh-soph game 44-32.

Illinois Victory Over NU Could Even Series

Illinois meets Northwestern at Evanston Saturday for the fiftieth time, and if the Illini win, it will deadlock a series that, appropriately enough, started with a tie in 1892.

Early day Illinois teams welcomed the chance to teach their upstate rivals how to play football. In 1928, after 22 games had been played, the Wildcats had won only five and managed three ties. Competition was so one-sided during a 12-game span that the Illini won 11, and lost only one. In 12 games the Wildcats could score only six touchdowns.

THE TREND changed in 1929 and since then Illinois has given Northwestern fans many opportunities to celebrate.

An Orange and Blue team, sparked by Johnny Karras, was apparently Rose Bowl bound in 1950 but the inspired Wildcats cancelled any California plans by rallying for a 14-7 upset on the snow-rimmed turf at Dyche Stadium.

Sammy Rebecca's field goal gave Ray Eliot's team a Pasadena trip the next year as Illinois won 3-0. But in 1952 at Champaign the Wildcats came back with some last minute heroics to win 28-26 in one of the most thrilling games of the series. With Illinois leading 26-21, the Wildcats moved to the 15-yard line of the Illini. Only five seconds remained when Dick Thomas passed to fullback Chuck Hren, who scored the winning touchdown.

A REVENGEFUL Illinois team got even in 1953, beating the Wildcats 39-14, the worst defeat since 1923.

Last year's 7-7 tie was typical of recent games. The Wildcats lost all of their first eight contests. Before meeting Illinois they had allowed opponents to score 136 points in three games. Illinois, fresh from great victories over Michigan and Wisconsin, was heavily favored.

The Wildcats fought to a tie and a moral victory, outgaining Illinois by more than 100 yards and eight first downs. Both touchdowns were scored in the first half. With less than a minute to play in the game, the Wildcats had the ball within Illinois' 20 yard line, only to lose an opportunity on a fumble.

NOTRE DAME'S football team travels to Iowa City, Ia., to meet highly-ranked University of Iowa in the ninth stop on their ten game 1956 schedule this coming Saturday, Nov. 24. Game time is 1:30 p.m., C.S.T.

The Irish and the Hawkeyes have met on the gridiron fourteen times with Notre Dame winning eight, losing three, and three contests have ended in ties.

The last Iowa victory was in 1940, by a 7-0 score, and the last Hawkeye victory at home was the year before, 1939, 7-6.

Despite the Notre Dame edge in the series, the contests between the Hawkeyes and the Irish have become traditionally close battles. Last year, Notre Dame was trailing 14-7 in the final period, and then quarterback Paul Hornung completed a touchdown pass and kicked a field goal for a 17-14 Notre Dame victory. Three of the last six games have ended in ties.

Olympic Cagers In Stadium Tourney December 14-15

Olympic basketball squad will make an unprecedented post-games appearance in a pre-holiday tournament at Chicago Stadium December 14-15.

Arthur Morse, in making the announcement for Loyola university, host to the 1956-57 Stadium doubleheaders, said that he received final approval for the tournament appearance from the players shortly before they left for Melbourne.

The defending NCAA championship San Francisco University squad, highly rated Santa Clara, and Loyola will complete the tournament field.

Gerald Tucker, former Oklahoma University All-American and member of the Phillips 66ers national championship squads of 1948 and 1950, automatically became coach of the Olympians when his Phillips team won the 4-team, 6-game playoff round robin in Kansas City last April.

Five Phillips players on the Olympic squad are Chuck Darling, 6:9 ex-Iowa center; Bob Jeangerard, 6:3 Colorado forward; Bill Hougland, 6:5 Kansas forward; Jim Walsh, 6:4 Stanford guard; and Burdy Haldorson, 6:8 Colorado forward.

Familiar to Stadium fans, in addition to Russell and Jones who stole the show in last December's Stadium tournament, are Carl Cain, 6:3 Iowa forward; and Bill Evans, 6:1 Kentucky guard. (Sp

Ela Defeats Lake Forest And Warren

Ela-Vernon opened the basketball season last weekend with 2 varsity victories, beating Lake Forest 60-48 and Warren 52-45. The Bears have no one returning from their first 7 of their conference champ team of last year and were not expected to start with such decisive victories. Ela-Vernon sophs beat Lake Forest 39-38 in 2 overtimes Friday at home and lost 43-37 at Warren on Saturday.

Ela brought forth a new scoring star in Jim Buciak who scored 20 points against Lake Forest and 22 at Warren. Norm Pohlman tallied 15 points in the Lake Forest fame and 7 against Warren. Norm Jesse got 12 against Lake Forest.

Wednesday Ela will meet tougher competition when they are host to the North Chicago Warhawks. Saturday they take on Geneva of the Little Seven Conference. (Sp

Travelers Cinch Bi-State Grid Tie

The Elmhurst Travelers trounced Racine's Raiders last Sunday at Racine, 34-6. This victory cinches a tie for the Bi State League title. A playoff will take place Sunday, Nov. 25, at Racine to decide the league champion. Both teams now have 7-2-1 records.

In Sunday's game Racine scored first on a pass from Rod Hermes to Ivy Griffen. The try for the extra point was wide. Elmhurst came right back and drove 60 yds. with Bradley skirting his own left end for the Travelers' first score. Grady kicked the extra point to make it 7-6.

JUST BEFORE the half, Buzzy Grady threw a 35-yard pass to Don Busch in the end zone for a T.D. Grady then kicked the extra point making it 14-6 Travelers.

In the third quarter Grady threw 2 more touchdown passes to Don Busch and also kicked the extra points making it 28-6.

Racine tried desperately to come back in the fourth quarter, but a stubborn line and a fine pass defense held them well in check. With 5 minutes left to play Bob Robinson, Traveler line backer intercepted a Racine pass and raced 25 yds. for the final score. Grady's pass to Joe Reedy for the extra point was incomplete.

This victory was the big one for the Travelers and they now are preparing for next Sunday's championship game. Inasmuch as the Travelers are the defending champions and also that no team has ever won the title 2 years in a row, a victory Sunday would be mighty sweet to them.

Coaches George Kulton and Jack Gezelle have a week of hard work ahead to keep their team up for this last game. (Sp

Sixth District's Freshman Legislators Rarin' To Go

The freshmen members of the state house of representatives who will serve in the 70th General Assembly, convening in January, were luncheon guests of Speaker Warren Wood last week in Springfield.

Tom Halpin (D) of Skokie and Bill Carroll (R) of Park Ridge were on hand but Skokian Art Simmons (R), the 3 who will represent the new sixth district, was unable to attend.

The new legislators, including Sangamon county's state's attorney George P. Coutrakon (R), were given a brief glance into their future lives as lawmakers.

They were told that both major parties would caucus Jan. 8 and that the new legislature would be sworn in the following day.

They are expected back in Springfield the following Monday, Jan. 13, at which time they will submit their preferences for committee assignments.

TUESDAY, Jan. 14, the elected state officials will be sworn in and the governor will address a joint session. The inaugural ball will be held that evening in the armory.

Halpin's first committee choice is expected to be the motor vehicle committee, and Carroll's probably will be the education committee.

Simmons hasn't announced a choice but it is felt his experiences in Skokie's local government as trustee and mayor could best be used on the municipalities committee.

HALPIN spent more than 20 years as legal advisor to the secretary of state in the auto registration division and was in charge of the fraud and complaint department of the state's attorney's office for almost 4 more.

In the last session of the General Assembly, he presented a bill to govern small loan companies who were handling automobile paper.

Carroll campaigned throughout the district proposing a revolving fund of many millions which would be available on a loan basis to school districts in distress.

The newcomers, numbering more than 65, were also to'd about the "First Termers School," a seven-session program designed to make "first string players out of new recruits," Speaker Wood said.

The sessions will teach the ways of legislation to the freshmen in a non-partisan manner and each of the 7 will be highlighted by special guests, the first of whom will be Gov. Stratton.

Other sessions will bring the other elected state officials, leaders of both houses, department heads and Supreme Court justices, the speaker said.

THE HOST said that the legislature would recess for two weeks after the inaugural ball during which time committee appointments would be made.

The lawmakers will settle down to business "about Feb. 1" and will be in session through June 30.

Sen. Arthur Bidwell (R), River Forest, president pro tem of the state senate, visited with the crowd for a few minutes, as did Charles F. Carpentier, secretary of state.

After the luncheon, most of the freshmen paid their first visit to the capitol, examined the house chambers, then began wondering, "How are the seats chosen?"

Speaker Wood told them that the women would be given first choice, then the men on a basis of seniority.

The freshmen, he said, would select their seats, probably, in alphabetical order.

THE FINAL port of call was the office of Bill Westbrook, chief clerk of the auto license bureau.

There each of the legislators filed their applications for their "official" numbers.

Each of the districts, 1 through 51, will have licenses with a large numeral signifying their district and a smaller number, 1, 2, 3 or 4.

The senator from the sixth Senatorial District will have plate 6-1; the representatives from the sixth representative districts, 6-2, 6-3, 6-4.

GENERALLY, the representatives are given numbers in order of votes received, giving Carroll 6-2, Simmons, 6-3, and Halpin 6-4.

There are only 51 senatorial districts but 59 representative districts since the state was reapportioned.

Motor Club Warns Drivers Of Thanksgiving Hazards

The feasting which is synonymous with Thanksgiving may make you a less proficient driver, warns Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club.

Over-indulgence in food and beverage has a tendency to dull the senses and makes the person less alert when walking or driving, he said, adding:

"It is best to wait a few hours after a cocktail and a turkey dinner before driving any distance."

BECAUSE Thanksgiving Day is sandwiched between working days, Hayes issued the following tips to motorists planning long trips to holiday homecoming dinners:

—Since the weather is likely to change quickly within a few hours at this time of the year, it is best to check weather forecasts with your radio station or weather bureau before embarking on a trip.

—If you must travel, take your time so that you can drive at a reasonably safe speed.

—Since most accidents occur after dark, try to plan your trip so that you will drive during daylight hours as much as possible.

—IF YOU ARE tired or if inclement weather strikes, it is better to play it safe by staying overnight.

—If you must have "one for the road," make it coffee or tea.

—If you become fatigued while driving, stop for a brief rest and drink a cup of coffee or tea.

--Beware of highway hypnosis on long, straight and lonely stretches. Play your car radio loudly if alone.

Pedestrians who take a walk to relieve themselves after a heavy meal should also be alert, particularly after dark, Hayes concluded. (B7

Tell Program For Disabled Children Age 18 And Over

Disabled children age 18 and over may be entitled to benefits beginning January, 1957 due to the 1956 amendments to the Social Security Law, according to Julius Berman, manager of the Northwest District Social Security office. Before the amendments, only children under age 18 could be entitled to child's benefits.

A child 18 or over may be entitled if he or she has been disabled since before age 18, is single, and is dependent on a parent who is entitled to social security retirement benefits, or was dependent on such a parent who died after 1939 and was insured under social security at the time of death. It is not necessary that the child have a social security work record of his own to get payments as a disabled child.

APPLICATIONS for disabled child's benefits should be filed as soon as possible and in person by any child 18 or over who believes that he or she may be eligible for benefits. If the disabled child is unable to contact the office himself someone in the family should do so for him. The Northwest District Social Security office is located at 4255 N. Milwaukee ave., Chicago 41, Illinois, and the phone number is SPring 7-3413.

Those desiring general information about benefits for disabled children age 18 and over may get it from the Social Security Administration's pamphlet number 4, which is available free of charge. (BB

Business Will Not Suffer From Highway By-Passes

Bypasses will be integral part of the new federal highway program. But, generally, they will not have an adverse effect on business in the communities involved, says the Chicago Motor club.

The Motor club has studied the situation to determine its effect in Illinois and Indiana, according to Matthew C. Sielski, director of the Club's Safety and Traffic Engineering department, who declared:

"We realize that in order to move traffic efficiently, it must not pass through municipalities. This is equally important to the municipalities, because the tremendous amount of traffic carried over highways would unquestionably create hazards and congestion in those involved."

THE KIND of bypass contemplated in the federal program would not permit any business establishment to front on the roadway, according to Seilski. He said a major road leading from a city would cross an arterial highway only by means of grade separation.

"In the next 10 years," said Sielski, "we are going to see a major change in the alignment of major highways. A substantial number of cities will be bypassed This might be of concern to both city officials and businessmen, thinking that a bypass would have an adverse effect on business." (BB

Natural Fences Ease Chore Of Snow Removal

A fence that builds itself can help to do away with a back-breaking chore — that of moving mountains of snow to clear the winterbound driveway.

In some locations home owners can grow natural snow fences, as state highway departments do to reduce the hazards of drifting snow.

Before the snows come, set up a temporary fence on a trial basis, to find the best location for a permanent fence, suggests ... Hudson, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co. Next year, the permanent, growing barrier can be started where it will do the most good.

Strategic plants located to the north and west of the driveway ... ve the best protection, depending on the size and de... of the property. Main objective is to space masses of shrubbery far enough from the driveway or walks to trap snow on the lawn. This minimizes the snow shoveling work.

Common hardy shrubs, such as weigela, forsythia, bayberry and the small viburnums are well suited to severe locations, as are hedges of hardy privet or common barberry. Some rugged evergreens, notably Norway spruce aud Austrian pine, make fine snow fences but these eventually grow large and may block off desired views and summer breezes unless the landscape is considered before plantings are made. Take Care Of That Power 'Fore You Put It Away For The Winter

A few simple preparations now for the winter care of your power lawn mower will pay off in handsome dividends next spring, according to Charles B. Gray, of the Charles B. Gray Sales and Service on Rand road, Mt. Prospect, dealer for the Jacobsen Manufacturing company, Racine, Wisc., makers of home power lawn tools.

Owners of power mowers need only follow these few elementary steps to insure an easy-to-start, properly operating mower next spring when the first mowing day rolls around, according to Mr. Gray.

1. MOWER and engine should get a complete cleaning, removing all dirt and dust. Grass should be puled from the ends of the reel and dirt removed from the chains and mower deck.

2. Drain gasoline from the tank by removing the fuel line. Start the engine to remove any remaining fuel. Gasoline left in the tank over winter may become stale, resulting in gumming of the carburetor. Oil should not be removed from the crankcase of the 4-cycle engine.

3. REMOVE the spark plug, squirt a few drops of oil into the spark plug hole and pull the starter through once or twice. The spark plug should then be cleaned and replaced in the engine.

4. To protect the machine from rusting over the winter storage period, a light film of oil should be applied to all moving parts and exposed spots.

5. The final stage in the winterizing of your power mower is to cover the machine to protect it from dust and from "adjustments" by children playing near it. (DL

tryside Association for Retarded

The school reported this week that response to letters of appeal for funds have been "encouraging" and directors of the Coun-Children hope more contributions will be forthcoming.

Illinois does not give state aid or support schools for retarded children. Management and financial burden fall upon the individual communities. THE FARM school launched its fund drive with an open house November 11. More than 150 persons toured the school and grounds. Refreshments consisted of apples and cider donated by John L. Bell of Mossley Hill Orchards.

New Poland Is Losing Its Police State Appearance

Poland is undergoing a redecoration.

It is losing the appearance of a police state. Soldiers are no longer posted at bridges, telegraph offices, banks and other key spots.

This reporter traveled extensively throughout north, south, east and west Poland without once being asked for identification. (Except at hotels).

Compared to the scene in many other countries, few soldiers were visible in the cities or villages. Poles claim to have a small but well-equipped army. Of the soldiers that were seen, a high percentage carried sub-machine guns. Local police carried small encased revolvers attached to their belts.

Russian soldiers were few and far between. Those who are in Poland are for the most part officers who generally do not wear their uniforms.

In the tourist season, large numbers of Russians, Czechs and other communist country citizens visit Poland. It is not necessary to have a passport for travel between Russia and the satellite lands, providing one is a citizen of one of those countries.

THE POSTING of letters to places outside Poland used to require censorship. Now one brings the open letter to the central post office where an employee looks among the pages, usually without withdrawing them from the envelope, to see that no money is enclosed. The letter is then sealed and given a clearance stamp with the initials of the employee.

Foreign newspapers and magazines are on sale in the government newsstands. In English, one usually finds only the British publications. The Manchester Guardian and The Times are almost always obtainable. American periodicals are regarded with suspicion. Newspapers from the U. S. A. were extremely difficult or impossible to get.

Many informal interviews were had by this reporter with Polish communists and sympathizers.

A typical one was with a minor government employee in Danzig. He said that there was no such thing as a Iron Curtain and that the exchange of information is in no way restricted in Poland.

WHEN ASKED why the Voice of America is jammed, he answered that too many lies were told on our transmissions and it is necessary to protect the minds of the people. This was a typical answer. This reporter explained that Radio Moscow is not jammed by the American government. Exasperated be-

Paddock Publications Point Of View

The Newspaper's Role In Suburban Growth . . .

In a Fence Post letter printed on this page last week, a Rolling Meadows resident charged Paddock Publications with opposing suburban growth.

The letter contained other charges. This, however, is the only charge which merits a serious reply.

First of all, it might be pointed out that for the most materialistic of reasons — financial gain — this newspaper stands to profit through expansion of the northwest suburban area. The influx of new residents means more subscribers and more merchants who will advertise.

A newspaper is not, however, solely a money-making organization. It has, or should have, a leading role in creating the sort of community in which people take pride.

A newspaper must represent, if you will, the aspirations of the best elements of the community. This newspaper believes that one of its major tasks is to strive for the common good of the community.

In our case, the community includes the entire area served by Paddock Publications. Its outer boundaries roughly take in the communities of Wheeling, Elk Grove, Schaumburg, and Barrington Woods.

Is there any basis to the charge that we have "consistently knocked home buyers, builders and contractors, developers, prefabbers . . . and fostered ill will toward anyone connected with suburban growth"?

. . . A Home Means Security

Growth. Progress. They are big words and cover a lot of ground. They are such big words that they contain both good and bad elements.

To some, growth means merely the turning of woods and fields into rows of houses. To others, growth means the turning of fields and woods into well-balanced communities which are more pleasant to live in than crowded cities and which offer a cleaner atmosphere in which to raise children.

A house is not necessarily a home. A home means security. And a family has no security unless its basic needs are being met by adequate schools, hospitals, churches, welfare agencies and shops.

Civilized people also require a certain pleasantness in their surroundings such as parks, playgrounds and landscaping.

Too often, builders ignore these community needs and feel it sufficient to provide only a roof and four walls. We feel that those who create communities obligate themselves to certain community responsibilities.

School problems are foremost in our mind here. Increases of hundreds of pupils each year in local classrooms cannot be absorbed by the school financial system. Since new homeowners often can't pay educational taxes until a year after arrival, schools must educate some children for an entire year before being reimbursed.

Multiply this cost of educating one child by the number of new pupils pouring into our schools and you may realize the terrific strain being brought to bear on our suburban educational system.

Help must be had from somewhere. Where?

New homeowners shouldn't be faced with a special bill for schools. The cost of setting up new homes is great enough burden.

And since schools rightly prefer to keep authority in their own hands, a tremendous boost in state and federal aid to education is not the best solution to the problem, although some increases from these sources are in order.

Because standards of education must be kept at a high level, builders should contribute minimum requirements to keep schools operating properly. These minimum requirements are set according to need by local school boards. They usually include dedication of school sites and money-per-home when possible.

. . . A Desire For Decency

In addition to schools, it's a shame to see sprawling subdivisions without open spaces for parks and recreational areas. We wholeheartedly support local ordinances calling for dedication of public lands.

If we are guilty of negativism concerning builders, it is only when they refuse to comply with what we, as local residents ourselves, believe to be the minimum standards of civilized living.

It is with special satisfaction we note that many of the decent standards Paddock Publications have subscribed to are now being put into Illinois law. The recent Naperville decision regarding builders handed down by the supreme court of Illinois is a case in point. This decision upholds the power of planning commissions to enforce village regulations on building in nearby unincorporated areas.

The Naperville case represents a new line of thinking in Illinois, a conviction that communities have the right to protect themselves from unnecessary exploitation by irresponsible builders.

That Paddock Publications works in the best interests of the whole community and not for just a few special interests has been proven time and again.

That an elementary school in Palatine is named after Stuart R. Paddock Sr.; that the idea for the coming Northwest Community Hospital center was born in the office of Paddock Publications; that Mt. Prospect school district now has needed acreage in Hatlen Heights due in part to a Paddock discovery of an irregularity in the Cook county recorder's office; these are but a few items in the record that we stand upon.

Growth. Progress. They are big words. So big they contain a good way and a bad. Like many another group and resident, Paddock Publications want to make sure northwest suburban progress will head in the right direction.

A Thought For Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving Reminds Man He Is Not Alone

by REV. WILLIAM McGILL

To give thanks is a strangely social act.

We often think of it as personal — but this is a superficial judgment. It is instensely social.

It is social because thanks always recognize that we are dependent upon another.

EVEN SO SIMPLE an action as a transaction at the drug store indicates it. The man behind the counter hands me my change and thanks me — for making the purchase; I thank him — either for my change or for being there to supply my need.

A day of Thanksgiving reminds us of our dependence upon One who is able to supply all our needs beause He is sufficient. This too is a social act, for God is our Father who loves us, whose benefits are always available to us, whose Word is always seeking to influence us.

To give thanks is a social act, for it is seldom that our appreciation is concerned solely with ourselves.

When we make our purchases and thank the man behind the counter, it is usually true that the purchase is to be used in common by our families or those who come as guests of our families. We express our thanks in the names of a host of users.

This is why traditional celebrations of a Day of Thanksgiving have been national and social.

The little colony at Plymouth gathered to express the thanks of a people. In the shade of Burial Hill they gathered, thus betokening their common sense of the life eternal and the social solidarity of the people of God.

The Israelites of the Old Testament gathered by communities for the thank-offerings following the harvest.

WE CONTINUE the practice. In many communities we have union services in churches where the whole community may be gathered in celebration of Thanksgiving. Whole families get together — parents, children, grandchildren, in a few cases, great-grandchildren. We have guests, old friends, in our homes for the celebration.

Man does not live to himself alone.

The expression of thanks is one of the ways in which it is clearly demonstrated to us that each of us is a part of all whom he has met, and that all whom he has met are a part of him.

A New Approach To Thinking (?)

by MARY

Keep an open mind, the philosophers tell us. Don't ever ever get narrow as an arrow in the thinking department. Keep those old brain cells whirling because to stop thinking is to die a little

I have discovered that I have such an open mind that the wind whistles through Some unkind souls might say that I have holes in my head. They don't understand that I feel I am too young to die. Even a little

NEW YORKER magazine has a department in it called "Which paper do you read?" Then it prints two stories taken from rival papers written on the same subject and completely contradictory. Am I getting through to you?

That is the kind of thinking I do

This Suez crisis has me in a complete fuddle. A frightened fuddle, you understand, but a fuddle nevertheless. When Britain and France went in there, beating their chests and skirling their bagpipes, I was very cross at them.

I pouted over their idiocy for about 3 days. Then, a friend whose opinion I value, got to me with the other side of the picture. Her argument ran to stopping dictators in their tracks and remember Hitler. I remember him very well so with a quiet meshing of gears I changed my mind and Anthony Eden and I were once more going together

OUR RELATIONSHIP may not have had the old warmth it once had, but I spoke kindly of him instead of baring my teeth when his name came into the conversation I felt this way for about 3 days

Then, lo and behold, my traitorous buddy read an article in one of the news magazines that caused her to do the old switcheroo. There we were on opposite sides of the fence. She was just as eloquent denouncing as she had been on praising.

When I changed my mind this time, the gears stripped a little but I made it. So Anthony and I are once more pffft. I am back to snarling over his pictures. A divorce is in the offing between us and I want custody of the children.

Boy, how open minded can you get?

Just Around The Corner From Patty McArdle

A Dilemma In Children's Art

Dear Peg:

"Mama, here's a picture for Gramma. Send it to her right away," Bridget cried as she came running to me from her room. "Look at it. Look, Mama!"

I looked and as I did felt that creeping, sickish feeling that only a mother knows when expected to occurately identify the subject of a drawing that defies identification.

"Now, let me see," I stalled, "it's a girl." This was fairly safe—it had a skirt and long hair. However, something told me it was not an ordinary girl. She was wearing a tall pointed hat—or was that her head?

"What kind of girl?" Bridget asked. The interrogation began.

I thought to myself . . . pointed hat . . . who wears a pointed hat? A witch? The girl is too pretty to be a witch—look at those eye lashes . . . Clown? They're boys . . . A Dunce? Unlikely. As long as I won't guess it anyway, I might as well make it good.

"I would say, after much thought, that the young lady is a space cadet and is wearing the latest in radar and television helmets for traveling in outer space!"

"It's a clown girl."

"Oh, of course, now I see the big polka dots on her hat. She's a lovely clown girl. Gramma will be so happy to get your nice picture. We'll go put it in an envelope right now."

"Who's this?" the artist asked, pointing a chubby finger at some creature I had purposely overlooked in the corner of the page. I was trapped again. Let's see, who do I know with one eye, half a top hat, carries a big stick and wears trousers?

"Daddy?" I tried weakly, although it didn't really make much sense since Daddy has two eyes, no top hat (not even half a one) nor sticks—but there were the trousers.

"It's a drum major walking sideways."

"Why, yes, now I see. That's very good, honey. O. K. now let's go find an envelope."

"What's this?" the interrogator went on, but this time she couldn't catch me. The object to which she refered could, to the layman, have been most anything from a spider to a crab to an octopus, but it is the one object that we "experts" on children's art can always identify. It appears in 99% of all children's drawings regardless of the subject or theme of the picture. You'll always find it at the top of the page, either in the middle or in the corner. Of course, it's the sun.

(Incidentally, I wonder why this object appears so consistently in the drawings of children. Do you suppose it's the same primitive instinct that moved the cavemen to drawing and worship the sun as something necessary to life?)

At any rate, she was pleased that I could accurately identify at least one of her subjects and at last allowed me to fold and put her art work into an envelope. Along with a note saying that we could hardly wait for Thanksgiving when we would be at the Farm with her, Grampa and the rest of the family, we sent the drawing to Gramma who we know will love it no matter what it seems to be.

Have a happy Thanksgiving.

My love,
Patty

Way Back When

Her Citizens Prove It: Wheeling On The Map

(Excerpts from the Chicago Examiner, February 9, 1915, a copy of which was presented to Way Back When by Miss Dorothy Forke, 67 S. Milwaukee, Wheeling.)

Wheeling, Ill., was discovered yesterday.

No one went there, but a small expedition of natives took their lives in their hands, journeyed to Chicago and pointed out where they should be on the map for the benefit of the State Public Utilities Commission. Then they told a tale of hardship and privation such as the commission did not suppose existed outside of story books.

WHEELING, it appears, is 19 miles from the Chicago City Hall — as the crow flies. Circumstances, however, prevent inhabitants of Wheeling from traveling like crows. That's where the hardship comes in. For all practical purposes they might as well be in Denver or the North Pole.

So Wheeling wants a railroad.

There are ways of getting out of Wheeling. Adventurous travelers told the commission about them in some detail.

Cc $1.50 To Leave

Frank Forke, who owns a livery stable and is trustee of the Village Board, said that, when folks were in a hurry to get to Chicago, they usually hired a rig and drove seven miles to Desplaines to get a train.

"IT COSTS a man $1.50 to get out of town," said Mr. Forke complacently. "That is, of course, besides his railroad fare. I calculate to get $1.50 for carrying passengers over to Desplaines."

Other witnesses agreed that Trustee Forke is, in a manner of speaking, the key to the village, and that it was not easy to get out of town without his consent. There are, they said, some bicycles and a motorcycle or two in Wheeling, but they are held at a premium.

There is a Train, Honest

Jacob Schwingel, president of the Village Board, admitted that there is one other way of doing it. He told about a Soo Line train that leaves Wheeling at 8:57 o'clock in the morning and reaches Chicago at 11:30. This, he said, is a milk train which consits of an engine, a smoker and a coach.

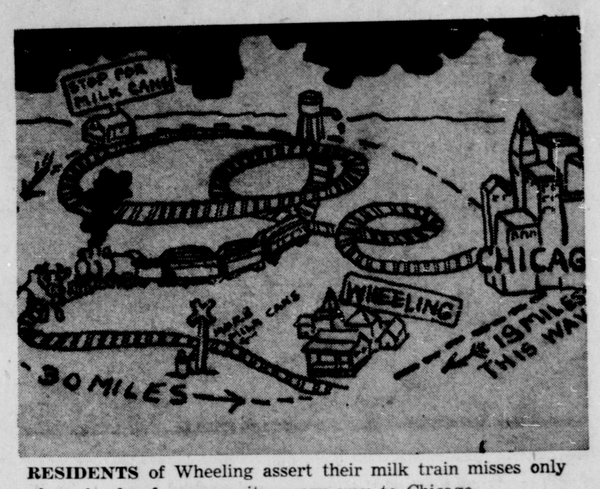
"THE TRAIN is usually a few minutes late,' said Schwingel, adding as a cheerful afterthought, "Sometimes it is on time."

Robert E. Hogan, assistant State's Attorney, whose family lives in Wheeling, says he does not visit his folks very often.

"It's — er — a bit isolated," he said mildly.



RESIDENTS of Wheeling assert their milk train misses only three herds of cows on its weary way to Chicago.

Attorney John Van Natta applied on behalf of the Chicago and Northern Interurban Railway Company for a certificate of convenience and necessity to construct and operate a railroad from the city limits to Wheeling.

The commissioners took the case under advisement and the Wheeling delegation adjourned to a nearby haven of rest, where they joined in singing, "When You're a Long, Long Way From Home."

Nervous? Here's A Cure

Other patrons of the Soo Line described the 2 hour and 33 minute ride from Wheeling to Chicago thusly:

The creeping engine gurgles softly as the engineer coaxes it onward. The wheels hum a dreary monotone as the coaches follow.

The passengers, between intervals of slumber and the jerks and jolts of the train, look out of the windows and — it is whispered — lay wagers on the speed of turtles which race alongside the tracks.

Children hurrying by the train on their way to school sometimes wake the drowsy occupants of the coaches. At these times the latter sit up and yawn, and after reading a newspaper or two, recline on the seats again, believing the train ultimately will reach Chicago.

THERE'S A STOP at every station and big cans of milk are rolled out of the cars and onto the platform, and other cans are rolled off the platform and into the cars.

When there is some talk between the trainmen and the station agent, the conductor makes it known to the engineer that he wishes the train to proceed, and the journey after a time continues.

Modern Gadgets: A Flop?

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

These fall days bring back to me the acrid smell of smoke curling lazily from many a kitchen range in the little town near where I lived in North Dakota as a kid.

Come to think of it, there are a lot of things missing in this age of electricity, gas, oil heat and automobiles.

FOR INSTANCE when we used to come in from outside and stick our wet feet in the oven of the old kitchen range; the smell of home made baked or fried ham on the table with platters of a dozen or more soft fried eggs, home made bread cole slaw, cherry or apple pie; the cold, clear water drunk from an old tin cup hanging by the well that gave the water a good, irony taste; the horses in the pasture which used to follow one around searching for a lump of sugar in your pocket, or nuzzling your bare arms with their soft, velvety noses; the cows, standing in a pot hole or swamp, lazily threshing flies from their sides and back with their ropelike tassled tails, contentedly chewing their cuds, and staring into the distance; the frisky calves, butting the bucket of skim milk you gave them, or the pathetic, wide eyed stare the newly born calves gave you as they stood on their stick like legs, spread apart to keep their balance; the joy it was to teach them to drink from a pail by sticking your hand in the milk and placing your fingers into their mouth; the smell of ripe wild strawberries in the field, and the sweet smell of hay as you work with it in the fields.

THERE WAS TIME, then People worked long hard hours, but they had time to stop and visit with a neighbor, too, and to help one another out.

Electricity, automobiles, gas heat and gadgets galore are the rule of today.

Although they are made to save time and labor, I often think there was more time in the old days. With all our labor saving devices and short hours of work, we seem to have less time to be sociable and neighborly than in the days of the kitchen range and kerosene lamp.

'Archaic' County Jail Aggravates Crime Rate

by JOSEPH D. LOHMAN, Sheriff, Cook County

I am firmly convinced through my experience as Sheriff and my lengthier experience in criminological and penological research and administration that the more than 3,000 county jails and more than 2,000 city jails and detention lockups of the United States are the most critical of the penal problems facing the American people if we would cut short the development of criminal careers.

It is not often realized, but these 5,000 or more places of temporary detention and short term confinement are for most offenders their introduction to hte American system of criminal justice.

Here they can have an experience which turns them immediately back to the community, eager to repair their ways; or here they can become bitter, hostile, alienated caught up in the web of criminal justice, there to remain permanently stigmatized and estranged.

It is the latter which is generally true, for over 75 per cent of the men and women who enter our jails and detention centers come back again and again.

Only in their later visits does the county jail become merely a way station as these wayward victims of a wayward system await transportation to our State and Federal penitentiaries.

IN MOST minds these local Bastilles are regarded as places of "temporary detention," hence of fleeting consequence.

If they teach a lesson as some think, it is presumed to be a sobering taste of something bitter, to remind one of the wages of crime should temptation arise on some later occasion.

Unfortunately, such amateurish and ill-conceived views of punishment as a deterrent sence.

are more conspicuous by their employment than by their ab-

Suffice it ot say, the county jail, in one way or another, has nearly everywhere ceased to be a place of temporary detention, it functions as a local penitentiary and even for those who experience it as 'birds of passage," its penal quality is paramount.

WHAT THE county jail has become; how it, in fact, influences those who live there for a time; this is what should concern us.

When the Cook County Jail was dedicated in 1929, only a small percentage were confined as sentenced prisoners, in fact only 7 per cent. Today over 66 per cent of its inmates are sentenced prisoners.

Whatever positive benefits the sentence visited upon them is to realize for them and society must be affected by the quality of that experience.

I am sad, indeed, that I must report that, at best, it cannot be regarded as good.

I BELIEVE Cook county's archaic methods and facilities for the handling of sentenced prisoners (archaic by the standards of the day in which the jail was dedicated) are a major contributing factor in the aggravation of the crime problem in our community.

It must become something different and very soon if our local system of criminal justice is to protect and secure us and if we are to salvage the thousands of personalities who are being lost to constructive and useful lives because of the baneful influence of an almost exclusively negative and repressive environment.

The county jails, as presently constituted, are for all practical purposes agencies for the creation of a community of interest on the part of those who violate the law.

They establish contacts and continuing association among law violators.

They afford a machinery for perpetuating and transmitting the culture and tradition of crime.

They produce attitudes of hostility and cynicism toward the machinery of justice which houses them together in idleness, as it does.

And they insure the maturation of delinquent and criminal attitudes as well as professional criminal skills among the neophytes by the indiscriminate lodging of all types of persons (men and women; young and old; felons and misdemeanants; unsentenced and sentenced; petty offenders and serious offenders; the professionals and the amateurs; the compulsive offenders and the situational offenders; the maximum security risks and the minimum security risks) under one framework of concrete and steel.

WHEN I TOOK over the Cook County Jail in December 1954, I encountered a condition which will not be remedied by mere palliatives and feeble gestures here and there.

What is required is nothing less than to drag bodily out of the middle of the 19th century not only these archaic structures but the archaic notions about crime and punishment of which they are the physical counterparts.

Constituted as they are, jails have become in fact an essential part of the crimo-genic process itself. In short, they make for crime rather than sesure against it.

OVECROWDING, of course, is self-evident. It is there to be seen by any who will take the pains to inquire and to look.

But this is by no means the central problem. It is only the surface symptom that our county jail monuments of stone and steel are not adapted to our needs.

We have outgrown them not only in size but in our knowledge about crime and corrections and in the spirit. The time has arrived for the development of a new correctional concept at the county level like unto that which has been developed at some State and National levels.

I labor this point because the usual answer to such matters as overcrowding is to propose the construction of another cell block. This has been seriously proposed in recent years here in Cook county and to the casual observer seems an obvious solution.

Nothing could be more in error for it would mean the perpetuation of our shortcomings and our difficulties on an ever increasing scale.

The answer in not to be found in bricks and mortar. The old and the new structures must be infused with new ideas and put together to serve new and quite different purposes.

IT WILL have availed us little to have enlarged our County Jail fortress of stone and steel if the men whom it confines are released even greater threats to our peace and security than when they entered.

Cook County is a burgeoning community in which the crime problem will certainly increase in complexity and urgency before it becomes stabilized. More and more we shall be required to deal with crime in the community where it arises and where those who are removed from the community must one day return.

The County Jail is more than a building. It is an answer to a problem and that answer must reckon with the nature of the problem. That is why we must bring to bear at the county level the whole apparatus of modern penology.

That is way we must look beyond another cell block to first, a diversified plant which permits effective separation of the unsentenced from the sentenced prisoners in 2 institutions, and the separation of the younger sentenced offenders from the older confirmed offenders in still another.

WE NEED 3 distinct facilities, one for the young offenders, a second for the older confirmed offenders, and a third for those awaiting trial.

This would permit the development of the next essential feature of a modern county correctional program, classification and treatment.

We need rehabilitative techniques and procedures tailored to the needs of these marginal members of our community.

And finally, we need to fill what is currently a nearly total vacuum in our rusted and antiquated armour of correction; namely, to bridge the transition of convicted offenders to the free community. We need to create a system of release and guidance designed to give maximum security to the community and assistance to the offender during the most trying period in the offender's career.

In The Future

A preheater for your automobile engine can be coupled up to a light socket in your garage and have the car ready to start of winter mornings. . . .A new electric foot massager for use while you sit comes in pastel colors. . . . An imported air-cooled outboard motor weighs only 33 pounds. . . . Now you can get a bright protective coating to see your chrome trim through the winter. These Pictures Seen In 23,400 Homes

BECAUSE THE JAIL was designed for 1,301 prisoners and now must house almost twice that number, cells designed for one man are used by 2 or more inmates. The resultant overcrowding is a condition ripe for inmate unrest and often provides an education in crime for the first offender.

ALL INMATES MUST BE KEPT in a day room except when they are sleeping because the guard staff is not sufficient to oversee their activities in the cells. The design of the jail, which was intended to house non-sentenced prisoners, handicaps any attempt to provide rehabilitation programs for sentenced prisoners, who are now the larger part of the jail population. There is no opportunity for the separation of sentenced and non-sentenced prisoners, or the normal from the abnormal.

A COLD WATER slop sink like the one pictured above is located in the day room of each tier. Sixty of 70 men must share it to wash their clothing.

THE COOK COUNTY JAIL BUDGET provides for only one full-time and 2 half-time doctors, who each must examine an average of 45 new inmates and handle 50 sick calls daily. A small first aid room must serve the needs of 2000 inmates, most of them physically below normal when they enter the jail. Only 8 beds, usually full, are provided in the first aid room, and many ill inmates must remain in the tiers or be transported to the county hospital under supervision of guards needed at the jail.

Norma Dahm Becomes Mrs. Richard Weiland

In an 11 o'clock mass in St. Theresa church, Palatine, October 6, Miss Norma Dahm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Dahm of Palatine, became the bride of Richard Weiland, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Weiland of Prairie View. Fr. R. J. Sullivan officiated at the service during which Mr. Dahm gave his daughter in marriage.

Baskets of mums, carnations and pomps decorated the church.

For her marriage the bride wore a gown of duponi silk fashioned with stand-away neckline of alencon lace, fitted bodice and full ballerina skirt with paneled front and padded hip detail that gave the skirt a billow effect. Her French illusion veil was held by a jeweled tiara and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis with a white orchid center.

Arlene Dahm of Palatine was maid of honor and wore a gown of Dior blue silk shantung with fitted bodice and sheath front skirt with full back skirt. She wore a circle headpiece to match her gown and carried white fuji mums.

Ronnie Weiland of Prairie View was best man and Harold Dahm of Palatine was usher.

Thirty-five guests attended the wedding dinner at Gunnell's restaurant in Mt. Prospect and after a honeymoon in Wisconsin and Minnesota, the couple is residing in Palatine.

The new Mrs. Weiland is employed at DoAll Co., Des Plaines while her bridegroom is with Culligan, Inc. in Northbrook.

The 3 Christmas cookies we are featuring this week are a tradition in the Maurice S. Feltz household.

Made from old family recipes which she received from her mother, they are favorites of Mrs. Feltz and her whole family.

Although she makes other cookies in addition to these, these 3 are really "special" and a "must" for every holiday season.

One is for Almond Crescents, very rich, short and of the "melt-in-your-mouth" variety. They contain finely chopped almonds and are rolled in confectioners sugar while still hot, which makes them especially delicious.

Another recipe of Mrs. Feltz' is called Almond Cookies, although these are basically butter cookies with a half of blanched almond placed on top. Colored sugar may be sprinkled on top as substitute for the almonds, and these, too, are rich and good.

The Almond Cookies, as well as Mrs. Feltz' third recipe for Butterscotch Cookies, are ice box cookies. The Butterscotch cookies contain brown sugar and chopped pecans and are very tasty.

These recipes are all simple to make and never fail! With cookie baking time close at hand, you'll want to try all 3.

The Feltzes live at 204 S. School lane in Prospect Heights. They have 2 children, Danny, 10, and Vicki, 7.

Mrs. Feltz is president of the PTA and historian of the musical organization, "Music on Stage."

In addition, she is active in the Prospect Heights Womans club and the Brownies, while her husband is chairman of the Cub Scout committee.

Almond Crescents

1 cup butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ cup confectioners sugar
1 tablespoon water
2 cups flour
1 cup almonds, finely chopped

Cream shortening; add vanilla and sugar. Add water and sifted flour and mix thoroughly. Stir in almonds which have been blanched and chopped very fine.

To form the crescents, take a teaspoonful of dough, roll and shape into crescents. Place on ungreased cookie sheet and bake at 300 degrees 20 minutes, until delicately brown.

Roll in confectioners sugar while still hot.

Makes 2 to 3 dozen cookies.

Almond Cookies

⅝ pound butter
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon salt
3 cups flour

Cream butter; add sugar and vanilla.

Sift flour and salt together and beat into batter.

Form into 2 rolls and place in refrigerator over night.

Cut slices ¼ inch thick. Place on ungreased cookie sheet.

Place ½ blanched almond on each cookie, or sprinkle cookies with colored sugar.

Bake in 325 degree oven about 10 to 12 minutes, until edges are delicately brown.

Makes 6 dozen cookies.

Butterscotch Cookies

¾ cup butter
1 cup brown sugar
1 egg, beaten
2 cups flour
½ teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon cream of tartar
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup pecans, chopped

Cream shortening. Add sugar, beaten egg and vanilla.

Sift dry ingredients together and beat into batter.

Mix chopped nuts with a small amount of the flour and stir into mixture.

Form into rolls and place in refrigerator over night.

Cut into ¼ inch slices and place on slightly-greased cookie sheet.

Bake in 325 degree oven, 10 to 15 minutes, until brown.

Makes approximately 6 dozen cookies.

Elaine Hattendorf And Jack Northup Married

St. Peter Evangelical Lutheran church in Schaumburg was the scene of a candlelight wedding service September 8 in which Miss Elaine Hattendorf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hattendorf of Roselle, became the bride of Jack Northup of Roselle, son of Mrs Iva Northup of Bloomfield, Iowa.

The double ring service was held at 7:30 p.m. with the Rev. F. A. Hertwig officiating. Organist was Mrs. Hertwig and soloist was Arthur Hagemann Jr. who sang "O Lord Most Holy" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The altar was decorated with 2 arrangements of white gladioli and yellow mums.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore an embroidered white nylon tulle over satin fashioned with V neckline edged with white daisies, tiers of white nylon net in back from the waist to the floor. She wore a fingertip veil and carried a white orchid and fan of red sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Mary Mainard, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. She wore an emerald green crystalette gown with puffed sleeves and scooped neckline with V back and carried a large yellow mum surrounded by a cascade of small white mums.

Garnet dresses styled identically to the matron of honor's gown were worn by Mrs. Richard Poppino and Mrs. Elmer Moeller as bridesmaids. Mrs. Poppino is a cousin of the bride and is from West Chicago, while Mrs. Moeller is from Aurora and is a sister-in-law of the bride.

Susan Poppino and Brynn Moeller were flower girls. The 3-year-olds wore gowns fashioned identically to the matron of honor's gown.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hattendorf wore an aqua acetate gown with sequins over pink satin and a corsage of red sweetheart roses and white flowered mums. Mrs. Northup wore a gray print suit with a corsage of the same flowers.

Richard Christensen was best man and Louis Winkelhake, cousin of the bride, and Glen Northup, brother of the bridegroom, were groomsmen. Ushers were Elmer Moeller and Werner Hattendorf, brothers of the bride.

A reception for 200 guests was held in the Roselle American Legion hall after which Mr. Northup took his bride on a Wisconsin honeymoon.

The bride attended Palatine high school and is employed by Quaker Oats research laboratories in Barrington. She is residing with her parents while her bridegroom is stationed in San Diego with the navy.

Farm Builders Asked To Parley

Rural builders have been invited to attend the 13th annual Farm Structures day at the University of Illinois next Thursday.

J. T. Clayton, agricultural engineer at the university's college of agriculture, in charge of the program, says this year's program has been designed to help rural builders in the selection of farm building types and construction features. Lumber and material dealers and field representatives of manufacturers and suppliers will also wish to attend.

Registration starts at 8:30 a.m. in the Animal Sciences laboratory on the university campus.

Norval H. Curry, agricultural engineer at Iowa State college, will discuss farm grain storage needs. F. W. Andrew, agricultural engineer at the University of Illinois, will talk about planning for artificial drying and handling equipment.

OTHER University of Illinois staff members to discuss meeting farm grain storage needs include J. O. Curtis and Clayton, agricultural engineers; Velmar W. Davis, USDA agricultural economist; and H. B. Petty, agricultural ensmolt otigo etaoshrdlcmfwyvk tomologist.

They will discuss remodeling cribs and silos for shelled corn storage, maintaining stored-grain quality, grain storage economics and grain sanitation.

After lunch at the University YMCA, D. G. Jedele and A. J. Muehling, university agricultural engineers, will demonstrate fabrication of timber trusses in the Agricultural Engineering Research laboratory. Jedele will also discuss trussed roofs for farm buildings.

K. H. Hinchcliff and Miss Catherine M. Sullivan, extension specialists in farm structures and home management, will present problems in farmhouse planning and design. Fm)

Record Guernsey

E. B. Henslee, Arlington Heights, has sold the registered Guernsey bull, Henslee Farms O Observer, according to the American Guernsey cattle club.

The purchaser was Adohr Farms-Merritt H. & Rhoda R. Adamson, Camarillo, Cal.

This bull is out of the fine Guernsey cow, Adohr King's Ingria, that has an official production record of 14,936 pounds of milk and 718 pounds of fat, made on three times daily milking iin 365 days. He was sired by Welcome In Clara's Oberland.

EFFICIENT FARMING is practiced by Melvin J. Moehling, member of a prominent northwest farming clan, with the aid of a corn picker and sheller (at left, ridden by Moehling) and an American Crop Dryer machine, manufactured in Crystal Lake. Last spring Moehling moved from Huntley to a farm at Palatine and Wilke rds. and planted corn on 60 acres of leased land. Shortly after the first such machines came out he acquired his and found they bring profits by cutting storage costs drastically. A stream of air heated to 140 degrees is blown through an 18-inch layer of corn or another grain and moisture reduced from 30 to about 13 per cent in 3 hours. The picker and sheller harvests 3 acres in 2 hours and the dryer has a capacity of 260 bushels. An augur carries the dryed and shelled corn from the drying bin to a barn.

Your Soil Running A Fever?

If your body temperature ran above normal for several weeks, you'd probably go to bed and ask your doctor's advice. With soil temperatures above normal for several weeks, as they have been this fall, "soil doctors" at the University of Illinois, college of agriculture, have some soil treatment advice for farmers.

E. H. Tyner, professor of soil fertility at the college, says soil temperatures are the key to getting full value from nitrogen fertilizers put on in the fall.

RECENTLY TYNER checked soil temperature on the University's Agronomy farm and found it to be 62 degrees. After a small rain it fell to about 58 degrees. But even that was still too high to apply nitrogen safely on most Illinois soils without danger of too much leaching, Tyner says.

To avoid excessive nitrogen losses, the agronomists recommend applying nitrogenwhen soil temperatures are below 55 degrees on well-drained or tiled soils. For fall application they recommend using ammonium sulfate or anhydrous ammonia because these 2 are less subject to leaching than are other forms of nitrogen fertilizer.

Tyner used a soil thermometer for his measurements, but you can use any ordinary thermometer to take the temperature of your soil. Fm

Parasite Weed Could Be Serious Threat To Corn

Discoery of an innocent-looking plant in North Carolina counties could mean the beginning of a new and serious threat to the American corn industry.

The plant has been associatd with poor growth and dying of corn. It has been tentatively identified as Striga, sometimes called witchweed.

WITCHWEED has never been seen on this side of the world before. But in South Africa it has been a serious parasite on the roots of corn. In fact, it has been so troublesome that it has hindered development of the corn industry there.

There is certainly danger that witchweed could spread, points out Benjamin Koehler, University of Illinois plant pathologist. He urges all farmers to watch closely for the plant, which produces small pink flowers and tiny seed. Look for it especially near corn that has made poor growth or has died prematurely.

"IF WITCHWEED should spread to Illinois, we want to find it as soon as possible and take steps to keep it from getting a big start," he says.

Witchweed is not a weed in the usual sense, Koehler points out. Weeds compete with crops only for the nourishment that is in the soil. Above the ground, witchweed looks like a weed, but below ground its roots fasten themselves to corn roots and take their nourishment directly from the corn plant. It then becomes a plant parasite, very much like dodder.

THE KEY to witchweed control is to prevent seed production, points out Fred Slife, University of Illinois weed specialist.

This weed is an annual plant that lives about a month below the ground and then comes above the ground to produce seeds. After seeds are produced, the only way to kill them is by fumigation, which is very expensive.

QUARANTINE has been placed on the 5 counties where witchweed has been discovered. Research is under way on control methods.

In Africa the weed has been confined mostly to lighter soils. Slife believes there might be less danger on our heavier corn belt soils. (Fm

DOWN ON THE FARM

with Your Farm Adviser
CARL F. MEES

I just returned from the Illinois Agricultural association's annual meeting. It was a great gathering. Five thousand farmers from all parts of the state were there to discuss and listen to the discussion of agricultural problems. Some of the problems are persistent problems while others are new ones.

One may hear many interesting addresses delivered during the few days. Some statements from the addresses were:

"The future of agriculture is great if we do not go soft."

"Let us not bring up a generation thinking they can get something for nothing."

"Part of the compensation of being a farmer is 'complete freedom'."

THE CONVENION also had a note of sadness when it lost its vice president, Charles J. Elliott. Mr. Elliott died November 13 following a collapse shortly before noon while at a meeting of the association's resolutions committee of which he was chairman. As one of the top leaders of the IAA, Mr. Elliott brought to the organization his background as a prominent LaSalle livestock producer.

Mr. Elliott was educated in a rural school and at the Streator high school. He continued his formal education at the University of Illinois where he received a degree in agronomy in 1912.

The Illinois Agricultural association has lost a real leader.

A CORN referendum vote will be held some time during the 1st half of December.

WE HAVE MANY things to be thankful for this year and so Thanksgiving day should take on a new significance for all of us. Our harvests have been bountiful at record or near record levels. Even though we have had a serious drouth this fall, it has not damaged us too much as yet.

Although there are tensions throughout the world, we hope and pray they can be settled peacefully. Let's all offer a prayer of thanks on this great day.

Farm Youth Stars Of Stock Show Here

Scores of farm youths will miss Thanksgiving dinners at home this year in order to spend the holiday readying their animals for the forthcoming 57th International Live Stock Exposition, opening in Chicago November 23 for 8-days.

Based on early entries, Exposition officials predict that last year's showing of more than 500 steers and hogs, shown by boys and girls from 12 states in the International junior live stock feeding contest, will be exceeded. The exhibitors are 4-H and FFA members between 12 and 20 years old who have raised the animals as Club projects. (Fm

Drug Doesn't Help Cows Give Milk

Recent tests by U. S. Department of Agriculture and Montana scientists indicate that using thyroprotein in mixed feeds to stimulate milk production in dairy cows has little practical value in most herds.

Thyroprotein has been available in commercial feeds for a number of years.

The principal weakness, as shown by the USDA-Montana tests, is that there is no way to avoid a sharp decline in milk production after the drug is removed from the cows. Gradual removal of the drug, previously believed to be a means of preventing this drop in production, proved to be no better than abrupt removal or removal over varying lengths of time.

PREVIOUS trials had shown that thyroprotein increased milk production as much as 20 per cent in some cows for short periods. But the total amount of milk produced during the entire lactation was not increased, whether the drug was fed for short periods or throughout the lactation period.

More recent tests show that responses to the drug vary widely among individual cows, pointing to unpredictable results in its use in the average-sized herd. Profit above feed costs was increased for cows that gave the best responses to thyroprotein, but it was reduced for cows giving average or poor responses. Fm)

"Deck the Malls . . ."

No, it's not a mis-print. You see, we don't have any halls to speak of at Old Orchard business district. But we do have some of the loveliest malls to be found anywhere. They're the parklike areas which surround Old Orchard. And we're busy decorating them in the spirit of Christmas . . . yes, we're using boughs of holly. We're as excited about the coming season as the widest-eyed child . . . because this is Old Orchard's very first Christmas. Thinking about it, we decided Christmas is more than one bright, shining day in the year. It is a season and a spirit.

Accordingly, we're doing our bit to contribute to the spirit of Christmas by dressing up Old Orchard the best way we know how.

And after we're all ready, we'll open the wonderful array of gifts which, too, are part of the spirit of Christmas.

Will you help us?

All Types of Storage On "Peg-Board" Panels

IT'S amazing the large variety of things that can be stored on "working walls," better known as Masonite "Peg-Board" panels and fixtures. They are extremely versatile. Hooks and brackets have been designed to hold such diverse items as folding chairs, golf bags, tools, dishes, shoes, neckties, lingerie, books, umbrellas, planters, among a host of other things.

Pictured here are a few examples. Most lumber dealers have available not only the "Peg-Board" panels, but also 60 or more types and styles of fixtures. The illustrations will serve to point up some common uses, but ingenious readers will quickly think of other ways to use the panels and hooks for their own individual needs.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS HERALD
ROLLING MEADOWS EDITION

VOLUME 30, NUMBER 14 | Published Every Thursday By PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS, Inc. | Entered as second class matter under act of March 3, 1879 at Arlington Heights, Illinois | ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, ILLINOIS | THURSDAY, NOV. 22, 1956 | 2 SECTIONS — 48 PAGES | $4.00 PER YEAR — 10¢ PER COPY

The Editor's column

by STUART R. PADDOCK

Forty-one years—just 9 short of a half century—is the amazing record of service to his fellowmen which has been amassed by Chief Frank J. Biermann of the Mt. Prospect fire department.

Chief Biermann has spanned an era which stretches from the hand pumper to the modern emergency oxygen-equipped emergency car which speeds on errands of mercy almost every day in Mt. Prospect.

Should Arlington Heights village board recognize the expression of its voters on the sanitary district annexation?

Six out of 15 village precincts voted 1965 to 1888 in favor of the annexation. The office of the county clerk reports that 10 more days will elapse before the official accounting can be made public.

There is no doubt that Wheeling township gave a good "yes." The village of Wheeling voted 842 to 525 in its favor. Prospect Heights rolled up a bigger majority.

In view of present figures, we do not see why Arlington Heights as a village should question the legality of the law. Instead, it should reduce the present sewer use tax in proportion to the saving it will make when the sanitary district pays the expense of operating the present plant.

Many parents think their responsibility for actions of their offspring ends when they become of school age. Not so the mother whose 2 boys will face the electric chair for their part in the shooting of a policeman in a Hanover tavern last week.

She accepted full responsibility. She said the family had never had any home life and that she was away from home too much.

This mother's remorse should awaken all of us to the need for child guidance in the home as well as in the schools.

We told a visitor from the south last week that housewives in northern Illinois are not troubled with cockroaches or other bugs that are such a pest in the warm climate states. We spoke too soon.

As we reached our desk Monday morning, we were asked to identify a small bug that has entered many Arlington Heights homes in recent weeks.

"They are not large enough to be carpet beetles, neither are they box elder bugs, and besides they still live after being sprayed," was the complaint of a Dunton ave. resident who promised her neighbors that the editor would have the answer in this week's edition.

We haven't the answer, we are still trying to get those bugs identified and have a dozen or more of them imprisoned in a bottle on our desk.

The privilege of renting a new home between $60 and $70 a month is the bait that is being offered in a 1600-acre development in Hanover township, at the intersection of Schaumburg and Bartlett rds.

The chief requirement for a renter is the right to vote—a year in the state and 90 days in the county.

An advertisement states that large families are preferred. The sooner there are 100 people residing in the municipality the sooner an election can be called, which in turn will provide home rule for control of all zoning and building.

A lot of voters turned down the Blue Ballot November 6, probably thinking that its defeat would insure a tax status quo.

It is not so. The schools need money and the school interests are doing a lot of sleuthing to find it.

The latest is a building material tax which would provide an estimated additional $74,000,000 for schools if it was put entirely to that purpose. Its adoption would add 2½ per cent to the cost of homes.

The nigger in the woodpile is that it could only be employed if a general occupational tax is levied and there is no end to what that additional tax might mean to the housewife who turned down the Blue Ballot which promised an end to sales tax on food.

If a full occupational tax is approved by the legislature, the housewife will be paying a tax to the laundryman, garbage collector, telephone and electric light companies, the tailor, and perhaps the beauty parlor operator.

We are willing the schools should get theirs, but it is our thinking that there would be too many dollars syphoned off by the state for other purposes. Remember what was promised when the sales tax was increased?

We agree with the downstaters who condemn Cook county for either its disregard of autos as personal property or assessing them $240 cheaper than other counties.

A simple and easy answer on the auto assessments is the requirement that a receipted auto tax bill be presented to the state before a license can be secured.

After the defeat of the Blue Ballot, there is nothing to stop an income tax. In place of getting a headache over it all, we will just let the finding of the answer to the attorneys and the few editors who are members of the state legislature.

We are willing to bet that the lawyers will win, which in turn probably means "God help the average taxpaying citizen."

FLAMING OIL enveloped a Chicago and North Western streamliner Friday after it rammed a tank truck at the Rohlwing rd. crossing between Palatine and Rolling Meadows.

Driver of the truck and a woman motorist whose auto was hit by flying debris escaped serious injury.

FLAMES FANNED along the length of the Madison, Wis., to Chicago passenger train, scorching the side of coaches and gutting 2 refrigerator cars before they were extinguished by Palatine firemen.

None of the passengers or crewmen were injured.

A woman motorist driving along Northwest hwy. narrowly escaped serious injury when a portion of the truck's wheel assemblage flew into the air and plummeted into her auto, causing her to crash into a ditch.

Mrs. Roland Hopp 437 S. Highland, Arlington Heights, was taken to Resurrection hospital and released. Her car was badly damaged.

ABOUT 600 gallons of number 2 fuel oil was spattered on the 9-car train.

The 4-wheel tank truck with an oil capacity of 1600 gallons is owned by Arlington Elevator and Material co., 215 W. Northwest hwy., Arlington Heights.

Driver was William Jonas, 44, of 1441 Whitcomb, Des Plaines. He said he approached the crossing, stopped, and proceeded across the tracks because a blinding sun made it impossible for him to see the flashing red warning lights. There are no gates at the crossing located a half mile east of route 53 (Hicks rd.)

Jonas was recently awarded a citation for driving 3 years without an accident.

He was taken to Resurrection hospital for treatment of cuts and bruises and released.

WRECKAGE of the truck was scattered hundreds of feet along the track.

The train's engineer said he threw on emergency brakes when he saw the truck but that there was not time to prevent the crash.

Spokesman for the C&NW said all the train's wheels were flattened as a result of the set brakes.

Palatine firemen had to wash down all the coaches, and the entire train was taken out of service and parked on a siding at Arlington Park race track. Passengers were transferred to a special train.

Most severe damage was to the train's diesel locomotive and to 2 refrigerator cars located immediately behind the locomotive. Burning oil seeped between the car walls and nearly gutted the interiors.

AND A NOSE for news proved the undoing of an energetic newsman rushing to the scene of the train-truck wreck for a story.

Jim Bade, news editor of the Des Plaines Journal was driving along Northwest hwy. in Arlington Heights on his way to the accident when his car was struck by a Consumers co. truck, damaging the right front end of his car.

And when he finally arrived at the rail crossing, he discovered his press camera had no film in it!

Biased About Builders?

Last week a reader accused Paddock Publications of consistently knocking home buyers, builders and contractors, developers, prefabbers, and fostering ill will toward anyone connected with suburban growth.

This week Paddock Publications answers the charge in a frank, forthright statement of policy. Read Paddock Publications Point of View: Section 2, page 6.

Clubwomen Donate Half Of Treasury To Hospital

A lesson in how to help the local Northwest Community hospital fund drive has been given by a Rolling Meadows women's social club.

The group of 9 women who meet every second week has donated almost half of their club's treasury to the local fund drive.

In addition, Mrs. Charles Linde, president of "Thee" club states the women plan to set up a special savings fund for contributions toward the hospital drive. Members will be asked for small contributions at each meeting.

MRS. LINDE has urged other social groups in the city to follow the example of "Thee club." She feels a sizable contribution to the local drive could be realized in this manner.

Members of Thee club are Bebe O'Halloran, Florence Kassel, Val Thorstensen, Renetta Cosper, Edith Bernhardt, Lily Anderson, Lillian Keeler, Mary Ellen LaPak and Mrs. Linde.

Give Thanks Together After 18 Years Of Separation

Nada Pancich will give thanks in Serbian today.

But her thanks, and those of her husband Pete, will be all the more real for it.

This is Nada's first American Thanksgiving, her husband's 19th. But it is the first they have spent together. For this they will give thanks.

The couple lives in a modestly-furnished apartment at 203 N. Evergreen in Arlington Heights. For Panto, or Pete as he has been known since he owned Pete's shoe repair shop in the village early in the 1940's, the arrival of his wife last spring ended 18 years of separation.

Pancich settled in the United States in 1937, coming to the village in 1940. After several years of shoe repairing he left it to work in a Skokie war plant. He still works at the plant.

THE ONSET of war wrecked his plans to bring his wife and 3 children to America. After the war years his wife felt it would be best to remain in Yugoslavia to complete the children's education.

During the long years of separation Pancich sent a steady stream of packages containing food and clothing across the Atlantic.

Needless to say, their reunion in Chicago's LaSalle st. station in April was a tearful one.

And is Nada glad to be living with her husband in this to her still strange land?

Wordlessly, her eyes answer "yes."

Meetings Launch Hospital Drive

Mass meetings to launch the million-dollar fund drive for the Northwest Community Hospital center were held in Arlington Heights and Palatine this week.

ORGANIZATIONS representing Arlington Heights, Rolling Meadows, and Wheeling met at Arlington high school Thursday. More than 500 members of the teams that will solicit these areas attended the meeting in spite of rain and windstorm.

Nicholas M. Lattof, general chairman for the drive, presided at the meeting and announced encouraging first results of the campaign.

LATTOF reported a total of $63,500 in 10 pledges received just prior to the meeting.

These included 3 pledges for $10,000 each; 4 for $5,000 each; 2 for $2,500 each and one for $8,500.

NICHOLAS LATTOF

Among those pledges gratefully received were: Max Rhodes of Rhodes Appliances; the Gaare Oil co., Alfred H. Shotwell, president; Brandt's Restaurant and Lounge, through Joseph Brandt, a charter member of the hospital board; Earl Riley, residential chairman for Arlington Heights; Waldo E. Tinsley; and a memorial for Mrs. Geo. K. Volz given by Geo. K. Volz, Donna Marie Volz, and Glen and Vivian Benson.

KENATH HARTMAN, secretary of the board of trustees, traced the development of the organization from the time of its inception 3 years ago in Palatine to the present time.

H. W. Dotts, co-chairman for the drive, explained the set-up of the drive and gave instructions pertaining to the methods of soliciting and handling the pledges and donations.

Jack D. Hughes, co-chairman of the industrial committee, made an illustrated presentation dramatizing the objectives in the drive.

IN PALATINE, an organization of 250 solicitors under the leadership of G. M. Sanborn, W. R. Sundling, Roy LaLonde, and Leonard H. Ziehm for Inverness, met in Oak Street school November 19.

A meeting of 250 solicitors of Prospect Heights under the leadership of George H. Sheppard will be held at Prospect Heights school Sunday at 2 p.m.

WITH THE organization completed and the campaign launched thus far in Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Rolling Meadows, Wheeling, Palatine, and Prospect Heights there are 1,350 citizens of these communities now engaged in the campaign.

Lattof estimated that, when organization is completed in Des Plaines, Barrington, and Schaumburg, more than 2,000 citizens will be involved.

Though it was too early at press time to announce results of the solicitation first indications may be significant.

The first area captain to report the first results of 30 residential calls announced that these calls resulted in 30 pledges averaging $115 apiece.

Thanksgiving Dinner Will Cost Less

Your Thanksgiving dinner will cost you less this year than any time since 1950.

So announced the department of agriculture in studying the price of a home-cooked Thanksgiving dinner with all the trimmings.

A 10-POUND cleaned turkey costs $4.50 this year compared with $5.90 last yetr. Prices on apples, pumpkins, cranberries and oranges also have dropped and sweet potatoes, celery, grapes and walnuts have remained about the same price.

For a family of 4, the department estimates the cost of Thanksgiving groceries at $6.20 with some leftovers.

Last year the same meal cost $7.68.

Northcote Urges Thanksgiving In Holiday Proclamation

Mayor John S. Northcote of Rolling Meadows has issued the following Thanksgiving proclamation:

IT IS HEREBY AND NOW PROCLAIMED — That Thursday, the 22nd day of November, 1956, shall be recognized as a special day of Thanksgiving in the City of Rolling Meadows.

THAT gratitude to God, prevailing in the United States at all times, but highlighted on Thanksgiving Day, be particularly emphasized here;

THAT a time for appreciation of our blessings was never more clearly indicated and our good fortunes are more dear than ever before;

THAT in a time when every newspaper shouts of hatred and strife, man's mad inhumanity to many—in the Middle East and Eastern Europe particularly — the petty troubles and differences here in our city shrink to their true minute proportions and we can truly with all our hearts thank God for His many benefits to us.

ROLLING MEADODS is indeed blessed—with a wonderful spirit of appreciation and progress — with citizens who are constantly setting higher standards of service, tolerance and brotherhood—with clean surroundings, outstanding schools, exceptional civic opportunities.

PARTICULARLY appreciated bby every citizen should be the great growth and progress of our churches which through material gains and gains of the spirit are enriching our community.

LET US sincerely thank God for the benefits we have enjoyed this past year—individual happiness set in a community dedicated to a new life and expanding opportunity.

MAY GOD GRANT that the spirit of progress and the gratitude of unselfish appreciation for our many blessings will continue to grow here to infect all of the people who will join us in the years to come.

Happy Birthday

That first big hurdle at the end of those roarin' twenties has just been reached by Glenn Wehrmann, who celebrated his birthday at a family dinner party given by his wife, Joan, November 18. His actual birthday, however, is November 19. On hand to help him blow out all those candles were his parents, the Elmer Wehrmann from Des Plaines, his brother and family, Bob and Rie Wehrmann and daughters, Nancy and Roxanne from LaGrange, and Joan's mother, Mrs. Blanche Zuber from Des Plaines. Also assisting in "Operation — Blowout" was daughter Wendy. The Wehrmanns live at 3601 Sigwalt st.

Five girl friends who sang "Happy Birthday" and wished her many happy returns of the day were Renate Decker of Skokie, Janet Hughes, Linda Spirek, Jackie Witinsky and Barbara Bartels. Brother Billy, who was not on hand at this all-girl affair, extended his best wishes earlier in the day.

As a special birthday treat, Shirley Seeling took husband, Jack, to the Northwestern-Purdue football game Saturday, Nov. 17, in Evanston. Sunday Jack and Shirley helped their daughter, Patty, celebrate her second birthday at a family party. Brothers, Michael and Tommy, also joined in the festivities along with Patty's great grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. David Stewart from Florida, grandma, Jessie Seeling from Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. Finley Stewart, from Chicago.

Dinner out—no dishes at the Supper Club in Palatine Saturday night was the something special Bill Hughes had planned for Lorraine in observance of her birthday. The Hughes children, Janet and Billy, also joined in the family celebration. After dinner they returned home to find a group of friends and neighbors on hand for a big surprise party that Bill had arranged with the help of Beth and Lefty Olson of Chicago. Also helping with the celebration were Marge and Stan Jays, Erlene and Jim Hines, Shirley and Jack Seeling, Al and Jo Polan, Vicki and Jo Adamczyk, Chuck and Ruth Houle of Rolling Meadows and Bobbi and Rog Hossman of Libertyville. Sunday, Nov. 18, a family party was enjoyed by Irene and Jack Kurzek, an aunt and uncle of Oak Park and Bill's family, the Cermaks. The Hughes live at 2808 Owl lane.

Shirley and Karl Johnson, 2311 Wilke, had their fourth girl, Kimberly Sue, November 15. Kimberly was born in Sherman hospital and weighed 7 pounds 8 ounces. Her sisters are Sherlyn, 13½, Darlene, 11, and Jan, 8. Kim will find she has a very active mother, as Shirley is one of the Rolling Meadows reporters and member of the Rolling Meadows Girl Scout Neighborhood association.

Tom and Mary Hartnett, 3601 Finch ct., are happy to announce the arrival of their second son, Robert John, who was born November 3 in Norwegian American hospital, Chicago. Robert weighed 7 pounds 8 ounces at birth. Tom Jr., his big brother, spent some time visiting with grandma while his mother was in the hospital.

Hospitalized

Jerry Lombardi, 2307 George st., entered Resurrection hospital, Chicago, Thursday afternoon, Nov. 15, for a minor operation. He was expected to be a patient for only a few days and should now be at home recuperating. Wife, Loretta, and children, Jacqueline, Robert and Joseph, all want him to know they missed him very much.

Hunting

Open season on pheasants began last week, so last Saturday Pete Keller and John Doyle of Rolling Meadows, Wally Coon of Downers Grove and Earl Lehmann of Lombard drove to Huntley to see if they could still qualify as sharpshooters. Their aim these days is a little (?) off, but they each got a bird.

New Neighbors

A welcoming tea was held at the home of Joan Belson, 2105 Jay lane, for her new neighbor, Mrs. Cosman, who has moved to 2202 Jay lane. The welcoming committee consisted of Molly Le Gros, Mildred Christenson and Doris Rowan. Mr. Cosman is retired and the Cosmans have moved to Rolling Meadows from Chicago.

The welcome mat also goes out to Charlene and Bert Eland, 2006 Kirchhoff, who have moved to Rolling Meadows recently. The Elands have 3 children, Lois, 6, Gretchen, 4, and Denise, 5 months.

Ill

More Birthdays

Guests were Sandy Fackler, Claudia Novak, Janet Baumgart, Bobby Scott, Brian Jaaski and Maureen's sister, Mary. Everyone received toy watches as favors.

A birthday party for Billy Reddy was held November 17 to celebrate his birthday which is actually November 12. Surprise Baby Shower

Wednesday night, Nov. 7, Alice Boyle, 2606 Sigwalt ct., thought she was attending the regular meeting of the Sigwalt ct girls club, but it turned out to be a surprise baby shower in her honor. This meeting was held at the home of Phyllis Denton, 2605 Sigwalt ct. Other club members attending were Shirley Shaw, Pat Zimmer, June Masura and Diane Schwartz. All the girls "chipped in" and got her a collapsible high chair, which they presented to her. Refreshments were served following all the excitement.

Mrs. Payton has been visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Betty and Don Marshall, 2907 Starling lane, since October 24. This is the first time Mrs. Payton has seen the Marshall home in Rolling Meadows, as she has been in California since the house was under construction, having moved there from Chicago last year. (K

All Aboard--Local Teens Plan Country Hay Ride, Barn Dance

Members of the Junior Hi fellowship have their fingers crossed for good weather Friday.

Both the sub-teens and senior highs, younger and older branches of the fellowship, will participate in a combination hay ride and barn dance. A bus will transport the teens to the stables in West Chicago. The bus will leave the bus shelter at Campbell st. and Wilke rd. at 6:30 p.m.

The hayride "under the stars" will be over country lanes. The distant stable was chosen because of the safety factor involved in a less populated area.

SANDWICHES will be served following the ride. A dance period will be held in the clubhouse on the stable grounds.

Cost of the evening will be $1.25 per member which will include round-trip bus transportation, the hayride, dance facilities and food.

Return time will be about 11 p.m. Parents are being asked to be at the bus shelter at that time to meet the bus and transport the youngsters to their homes. Members are reminded to dress warmly and to bring an old blanket with them for warmth during the hayride. (K

Girl Scout News

Two new second grade Brownie troops will hold their first meeting Monday, Nov. 26, at 4:15 p.m. at Kimball Hill school. The first troop will be led by Grace Norlund and Joan Dudzienski; the second by Mary Worrell and Eleanor Schenck.

The father-daughter banquet Thursday was a great success in spite of raw potatoes and an unexpectedly large turnout. There were 288 guests including girl scouts, brownies, their fathers and adult leaders.

Appreciation has been expressed to the Willow Farms Dairy and the A&P stores for their donations to the banquet.

Highlight of the program was the song "My Daddy," presented by the girl scouts of the troop led by Lucille Doyle and Laurie Stapleton.

Sung in 2-part harmony as done by Patience and Prudence, the words were:

"My Daddy, I know that you're very, very tired from working very hard and coming here was sweet for tonight you belong to me. I know there are lots of things for you around the house to do and mother will agree, but tonight you belong to me. Hold me on your knee, how very, very sweet it would be once more just to dream I was still just a baby, my Daddy I know at the dawn you will be gone, but tonight you belong to me."

Troop 433 of 4th grade brownies has completed its handmade games. They will be given to the Rolling Meadows Community School for Retarded Children for Thanksgiving. Under the direction of leaders Velva Bozee and Betty Miner, the troop has started to make Christmas gifts for their parents.

New officers are: Rene Casperson, chairman; Christine Jungblut, treasurer. Darlene Dahl, secretary;

There will be no scout or brownie troop meetings Friday because school will be closed. Several troop meetings also have been cancelled on Wednesday.

Leaders, adult girl scout workers and parents are reminded of the neighborhood association meeting Tuesday, Dec. 12. A report will be given by Mrs. Frank Zupan, neighborhood chairman, on the recent regional convention which she attended in Milwaukee. (K

County, Trailer Park Tiff To Court

by TOM BRENNAN

A dispute between the Cook county building and zoning commission and C. Eric Olson, owner of a trailer park under construction in Elk Grove township, entered Circuit court this week.

Olson has filed a suit for a declaratory judgment to force the commission to issue a building permit for the Willoway Terrace trailer park.

Olson is the owner of 29 acres on Dempster st. near Busse rd.

THE SUIT states that the commission refused to issue a permit when Olson applied for it July 20. despite the fact that it had been rezoned in 1954 to permit erection of a trailer park.

The reason given for the refusal, continues the suit, was that deeds for property surrounding the proposed trailer park to a distance of three-fourths of a mile contain a restrictive covenant limiting future use to farming or residential.

The suit contends the covenant has been released and seeks to compel issuance of a building permit. William J. Mortimer, county building and zoning commissioner, and A. V. Plummer, his assistant, are named defendants.

PLUMMER denied the charge that his office has refused to issue a permit for the stated reason. He said that Olson did not receive a permit because he had not complied with all county building regulations.

Plummer explained that Olson had not submitted a plot plan for the trailer park. He also said that no permit would be issued while the owner is charged with an existing violation of county regulations.

Olson was charged with violating regulations by starting construction before obtaining a permit, Plummer said. The case has been turned over to the State's Attorney.

Martin Handelman, assistant State's Attorney in charge of the case, said that no date has been set for trial in County court. Handelman claimed the allegation had "just been filed" although Plummer said the charge had been made "5 weeks ago."

A conviction on the charge could bring a fine of up to $200, according to Handelman.

JAMES B. EGAN, Olson's attorney, declared that the restrictive covenant was recorded Sept. 7, 1954, 2 weeks after the rezoning of the 136-acre tract.

The covenant was removed Dec. 29, 1955, with the filing of a document containing the signatures of three-fourths of the property owners within the affected area, added Egan.

Upwards of 20 trailers are occupied at the trailer park, it was testified at a county zoning hearing recently. Olson said at the same hearing that the park will have an ultimate capacity of 400 trailers. He plans to spend a minimum of $600,000 to develop the site.

A large building on the property is being converted to a supermarket.
